ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1911. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Rather Unusual

But this is a store of unusual things. It is accomplishing things for you that other stores can't that we take pride in. To furnish your home with every thing you need, and to furnish it with those things that add character and distinction and to do it all for less in dollars and cents than any one else will is the moving principle of this great home building enterprise.

A Piano Bench

is quite the correct thing now-a-days. The old fashioned stool has long since been sent to the wood pile.

The illustration shows one of clever design built of mahogany with rich dark finish—always ready for the duet it is never in the way for the soloist and with a price that should usher it into your parlor today.

Full score will be printed in The Daily News Extra immediately after the game.

Today's Batting Order.

New York	Philadelphia
Devore, l. f.	l. f., Lord
Doyle, 2b.	c. f., Oldring.
Snodgrass, c. f.	2b., Collins
Murray, r. f.	3b., Baker
Merkle, 1b.	r. f., Murphy
Herzog, 3b..	1b., Davis
Fletcher, s. s.	s. s., Barry
Meyers, c.	c., Thomas
Ames, p.	p., Bender.

Umpires Connolly and Brennan; Dineen and Klem.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Connolly goes behind the plate, Brennan on the bases, with Dineen in right field and Klem in left.

First inning, first half—Devore rolled a grounder to Bender and was out at first, after having two strikes called on him. Doyle drove the ball over the temporary fence in right field for two bases. It was the first ball pitched to him. The ball almost went out of the grounds. Snodgrass lifted a high one which Lord took care of. It was two out, with Doyle on second and Murray at the bat. Doyle scored on Murphy's muff of Murray's fly. Murray was caught off first a moment later by a beautiful throw, Bender to Davis.

One run, one hit, one error.

First inning, second half—Lord was an easy out, Doyle to Merkle. The first three balls Ames pitched were wild and the next four were straight over the plate, one of which Lord fouled. Oldring, who made a home run off Marquard yesterday, struck out. Collins also struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second inning, first half—Merkle lifted a high one, which Oldring captured after a long run. Barry muffed Herzog's line drive and the runner was safe. Herzog stole second, Thomas's throw being a trifle high. Barry was slightly spiked by the runner. It was purely accidental. The game was delayd a few minutes while a doctor bandaged Barry's right ankle. Fletcher struck out and Chief Meyers was given a loud "hand" when he came to the plate. It was Indian against Indian. Meyers drove a hard grounder over second base, but Collins made a beautiful pick-up and caught the runner at first.

No runs, no hits, one error.

Second inning, second half—Baker lifted a high fly to Devore and was an easy out. Murphy hit one too hot for Doyle to handle and was safe at first. It was a beautiful hit. Davis rolled an easy grounder to Ames and retired at first, Barry struck out on three pitched balls, fouling one of them.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third inning, first half—Ames singles to left. Devore forced Ames at second, Bender to Barry. Captain Doyle was cheered when he came to the plate. Doyle lifted a foul fly to Baker. Devore was an easy out, stealing, Thomas to Collins.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third inning, second half—Thomas was given his base on balls. Bender was out, Fletcher to Merkle, Thomas taking second. Lord doubled over the temporary fence in right field, scoring Thomas. The stands shook with the cheers of the crowd. Meyers and Ames held a conference when Oldring came to the plate. Lord went to third on Oldring's out, Fletcher to Merkle. Collins lifted a fly to Devore.

One run, one hit, no errors.

DISAPPOINTED AT FAILURE.

Athletics Determined to End the Series.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Having failed to bring home the "bacon" yesterday, the Philadelphia Athletics will try to win the necessary fourth game from the fighting New York Giants, at Shibe Park this afternoon, to capture the base ball championship of the world. The National League champions have taken on a new lease of life and are determined to wage the stiffest kind of a battle to even up the series, and then fight it out for the seventh game in New York tomorrow. The Athletics are grievously disappointed in their failure to hold the Giants yesterday.

It is probable that Connie Mack will send in "Eddie" Plank, his reliable left-handed pitcher, to stop the Giants' batting streak. Plank pitched a masterly game on Shibe Park last week. He went into yesterday's game on the Polo grounds at a critical period of the tenth inning, without having been thoroughly warmed up.

Manager McGraw is expected to choose either Ames or Crandall. The experts do not believe McGraw will send Marhewson or Marquard into the box, as each was practically driven from the hurling mound in his last time out.

The weather early today was very hazy, but the sun could be discerned behind the veil and it was expected to burn up the haze before 10 o'clock. The temperature is about right for the game.

Awaiting the outcome of yesterday's game the Athletic management did not begin the sale of tickets for the sixth game until this morning. Large crowds were on hand early to purchase reserved seats. There were 1,000 people at the bleacher gates at 9 o'clock and shortly after that hour the gates were opened.

Concerning the statement of Umpire Klem, that Captain Doyle of New York did not touch the home plate when he came home with the winning run in the tenth inning yesterday, Manager Mack said: "I will make no protest. The Giants won the game and are entitled to the victory. Doyle was safe at the plate by 15 feet and the question of whether he slid over the plate or alongside of it is a matter of minor importance. I never have and never will bicker over decisions of umpires. The game will stand as a win for New York."

PITCHER COOMBS IN BED.

Wrenched His Intestines in Wednesday's Game and Badly Hurt.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Jack Coombs, the brilliant Athletic pitcher, is in bed at his home in this city with serious internal injuries. In the sixth inning of yesterday's game at New York, he wrenched his intestines and today his condition is so much worse that his physician called in two other doctors. They succeeded in reducing the injury and say no operation will be necessary. Coombs, however, will be in bed for a week and will need to wear a truss for some time. He will be able to pitch again next season, the doctors say.

Coombs when seen in bed said that in the sixth inning his cleats caught in the hole in the pitcher's box and when he delivered the ball he felt a terrific jar. The pain was intense, especially on the right side, but he kept on pitching. In the ninth inning he was forced to quit after Trainer Chadwick had examined him, though his team mates urged him to keep on.

SUBPOENAES ISSUED.

Federal Grand Jury in Indianapolis to Investigate McNamara Case.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 26.—That agents of the federal Department of Justice have been investigating allegations against John J. McNamara of conspiracy to destroy buildings by dynamite became known here today. The federal grand jury for this district will soon open an investigation and subpoenaes have been issued for witnesses.

ASSASSINATED BY HIS OWN TROOPS.

General Tohang, Commanding Imperials, Killed.

City of Canton Reported as Having Fallen Into Hands of Revolutionists.

SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 26.—A Chinese newspaper in an extra edition announces that the minister of war, General Yin Tchang, commanding the imperial forces, has been assassinated by his own troops.

The paper also states that Canton has been seized by the revolutionists. Great bloodshed is reported there.

The rebels are throwing up entrenchments at Kiu Kiang. The work is being conducted in an orderly manner.

Wu Hu, Nanking and Soo Chow expect the revolutionists will take over their local governments soon.

Manchu officials, high and low, some wearing disguises, are coming into Shanghai from every quarter. Native newspapers, which are widely circulated south of the Yang tze Kiang, announce positively that the emperor and his family are prepared to start for Mukden, Manchuria, where protection has been guaranteed them by the Japanese. Later it is stated the imperial members will be conducted to the United States. The widespread circulation of such statements as the above, without interference from the authorities, is considered significant, in view of the restraint to which the press has been subjected heretofore.

A native paper publishes a wireless from Hankow, timed 2 o'clock this afternoon, stating that all was quiet there.

IMPERIAL COMMANDER KILLED.

American Legation at Pekin Asks For More Warships.

PEKIN, Oct. 26.—The Chinese newspapers report that the troops at Cheng Tu, the capital of Sze Chuen province, have mutinied and killed General Chao Erh-Feng, commander of the imperial forces, and joined the rebels who now hold the capital.

The legations have received no news officially from Sze Chuen province for the past ten days. They ordinarily discredit the reports published in the Chinese papers, but consider the statement that Cheng Tu has fallen and the imperial commander been assassinated as not improbable.

The American legation is making further inquiries.

The American legation is asking that more warships be sent to Chinese waters, as the present fleet is not enough to cover the ports.

An official telegram states that General Yin Tchang telegraphed the government from Siankan yesterday that the imperial troops had advanced to Shokou and he was following them. The general added that the army had engaged in a number of skirmishes with the rebels, but no battle would take place until the imperial army was fully consolidated in its position.

RESPONSIBLE FOR REBELLION.

PEKIN, Oct. 26.—Sheng Hsuan Huai, minister of posts and communications, has been dismissed from office in accordance with the demand of the National Assembly made upon the government yesterday. An imperial edict issued today cashiered him forever, on the ground that he was mainly responsible for the plan to nationalize the Chinese railroads, in consequence of which the present rebellion arose. The edict explains that the government's project was intended to benefit the people, but Sheng Hsuan Huai failed to carry it out successfully and he transgressed the law while endeavoring to force the railroad scheme.

The government has thus chosen to sacrifice the man considered by foreigners as the strongest member of the cabinet, in order to avoid an open rupture with the Assembly. Sheng negotiated the loans for the nationalization of the railroad and opposed the provincial policy which would localize their construction and control. The rebellious elements in the province of Sze Chuen, Hu Peh and Hu Nan formulated charges against the minister and the subject was taken up by the National Assembly yesterday. The advocates of the charges stated that they were not opposed to foreign loans but rather to the methods employed by Sheng and the results, which amounted to a robbery of the people, from whom the railways under con-

The visitors punted, but as the ball did not go the required distance, it was taken back and given to Rogers. Frank and Knox both tried the line, but could not break through. Then M. Jemail took a criss-cross from Frank, found a hole, and went through for the last score, as he failed in the try for goal. Ebbs kicked, but before the two teams could line up the final whistle blew, with the score 12-0.

The local team seemed to have taken a "mid-season slump". Fumbles were frequent and the boys lacked their usual vim. M. Jemail appeared to be as well suited to the end as the the back field. Hoar played his usual steady game and Knox showed that he had not lost the art of dodging. Lee, Frank and Freeman made good gains, and all three tackled well. The line was weak at times. Cottrell went out of the game on account of an injury, for the first time since he has played with Rogers.

McGeough was the visitor's best man. He was a sure tackler and made long gains around the ends. Heywood played well at full back, and the ends were good in running down under punts and breaking up the Rogers interference.

The line-up and summary:

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Mrs. John Wesley Tallman, who has been spending several months with her son, Mr. Albertice Tallman of Wakefield, is on her way home to this town, having stopped in Providence for a visit.

Captain John M. Brownell was given a surprise party, arranged by his wife, in honor of his birthday. About 20 were entertained at dinner and Mrs. Brownell presented him with a handsome leather covered chair.

Mrs. Gertrude Vincent, with her son who has been guest for the past month of her sister, Mrs. Augustus Allen, at "Allendale Farm," has gone to Newport to visit her sister, Mrs. Tuttle.

The Grange Whist Club has resumed its meetings and held the first of the series Tuesday evening at Fair hall. Mrs. Emerson A. Bishop took the women's prize and Mr. George I. Anthony the men's.

Miss Kate L. Durfee has been guest since Sunday of Mrs. Horace Remington of Providence.

Mr. Harrington, who has moved into the Burbidge cottage on the East Main road, is making extensive additions to the building.

Mrs. William F. Brayton and Mrs. Frederick Lawton and her daughter were guests of Mrs. Francis P. Conway Wednesday.

There was a good attendance at St. Mary's guild Wednesday afternoon and a good supper. Considering the bad weather by which the harvest supper of the guild was handicapped, the financial results were gratifying.

Mrs. Sarah King Birckhead has closed her summer home, "Eastnor," and gone to New York for the winter.

Mr. Benjamin McNaughton of Providence is visiting his uncle, Mr. Abram Stratton.

Conductor Vargas of the Bay State Street Railway, who was married a few weeks ago, has gone to housekeeping in Mr. Albert Anthony's house, the other tenants being Mr. and Mrs. George Albro.

Mr. Ivory P. Lowe is making improvements to his cottage on Glen street.

A FULL REPORT.

[Lippincott's.]

One day an eight-year-old girl, who had been taught to report her misdeeds promptly, sought her mother with an aspect of grief denoting great penitence.

"I broke a brick in the fireplace," the youngster explained, between sobs.

"Well, that isn't beyond remedy," smiled the parent, "but how on earth, child, did you do it?"

"I was pounding it with father's watch."

LABOR LOSES HEAD OF TICKET.

Bay State Ballot Commission Throws Off Candidate for Governor.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—The name of Augustus Sedyer of Boston, candidate for governor on a Labor ticket, was thrown off the official ballot today by the Ballot Law Commission, and District Attorney Pelletier at once began an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the work in obtaining 1,833 names to the nomination papers, of which nearly 1,500 were found to be fictitious.

The hearing on the Seaver papers began yesterday on the petition of the Democratic State committee. Counsel produced a number of witnesses who denied ever signing the nomination papers.

George M. Young a justice of the peace, admitted today that he did not take the oath of several persons whose names appeared on the paper, although his signature as a justice also appeared.

Just before the opening of the session counsel for Mr. Seaver offered to withdraw his client's name as a candidate for governor if the opposition would withdraw criminal proceedings. Chairman McDonald of the Democratic state committee refused to comply with the request.

BENEFICIAL TO RETAIL TRADE.

Improvement in Textile Business in New England Continues.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—The improvement in the textile business in New England, which became noticeable last month, continues, especially in the woolen goods industry. Today President William W. Wood of the American Woolen Company, which operates more than 30 plants in New England and New York state, announced that the company is now operating between 70 and 75 per cent of its machinery, the largest proportion so far this year. Many of the large mills have received orders to keep the machinery running well into 1912. These plants include the Ayer Mills, Lawrence; Fulton Mills, Fulton, N. Y.; Brown Mills, Dover, Maine; Weybosset Mills, Providence; Wood Mills, Lawrence, and Cunegan Mills, Old Town, Maine.

The improved condition of the woolen industry will naturally have a beneficial effect on general retail business in the places named and other mill towns. The American Woolen Company employs about 30,000 persons, many of whom have been working on short time during the depression of 1910-11.

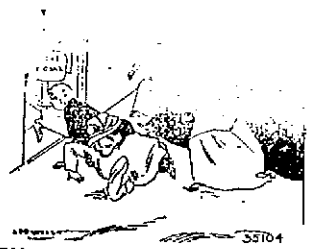

GROVER CLEVELAND SCHOOL.

SWEETS FOR THE SWEET

Says the proverb, but if you are not feeling extremely amiable; if, as Mr. Richard Swivelier moans, "The milk of human kindness has turned a trifle cheesy" a box of Vantine's Oriental confections at The Kazanjian Company's store will correct the acidity. If it is a bad job we have candied ginger to tone up the temper and also pistachio nuts from Bucharest which will keep the mouth occupied.

PICTURE FRAMING

Is a specialty at Wiseman's Art Store It is a known fact that this store has the largest line of mouldings that are up-to-date to be found in this city or it may be added in much larger cities. People delight in having their "framing" done here because they realize that the frames are joined with the greatest possible care. 112 Bellevue ave.

A greater effort has been made this season than ever before to present an exclusiveness of style in the shoes here displayed and it is a remark frequently heard that the shoes and slippers for the women folks—are the best ever.

SHOES NEED CARE

We mean by that, that a new pair of shoes will give just so much wear—of course it depends on the wearing qualities how long it will last—but then comes the time to have them repaired. The Boston Shoe Repairing Co., 110 Broadway does this work and as cheap as you can have it done elsewhere in the city. This is a busy shoe repairing shop in every sense of the word.

DON'T FORGET THE HORSE

The chill in the weather has a meaning all its own. You want a new warm blanket Mr. Horseowner and you want it right away. You can find a variety of weights and colors in the blanket line at Henry Biesel & Son's and can get a very good one or a less expensive one. All prices and all kinds of blankets here.

DON'T THIS WEATHER

Remind you of the approach of the cold blasts of later on? Better have the heating system installed—better do it while the thought is on your mind. Phillip F. Conroy, 181 Thames street.

"THAT 35 CENT COFFEE

Is certainly the best coffee I ever had on my table", said a well known man the other morning just after breakfast. My wife gets it A. R. O'Hanley's Grocery Store and several of her friends have recently purchased some of this coffee there—It's a hard coffee to beat for the price and I've had a good many kinds to try in my time. 642 Thames St.

LADIES, ATTENTION!

Merchant tailored clothes command admiration from everyone. Good fit and workmanship with exclusive fabrics give the wearer a distinct advantage over the person who persists in buying ready-made suits, and the ultimate cost is no greater. E. Boudreau & Son, Sherman Bldg., 140-2 Thames street, upstairs, 2d floor.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE

There is between the taste of a good fresh fish and that of the other kind. Many a housewife has experienced the disappointment of the latter kind. Our fish comes in twice each day to the store fresh from the traps. You will note the difference in our fish—others have done so. The quality is there, and the price right too. The Broadway Cash Fish Market, 69 Broadway.

THERE WAS A FIRE

The other day—it was an awning on a business man's store. It hadn't been new but a few months and he was sorry to lose the awning because it was an attractive one—made by Wilmarth & Co. He didn't have to wait long however, for a duplicate order was given to this busy awning concern and today he has a brand new awning made right here in Newport by Wilmarth & Co. of 147 Bellevue Ave.

SHORTER DAYS

And no lantern about the place and I'm going down town to buy one tomorrow morning. Well, if such is the case that you are really going to invest in a lantern don't forget to inspect the lanterns at S. W. Coggeshall's Hardware Store. "Rayo Lanterns" 55c to $2.00. 201 Thames St.

RIVALING THE SUN

In fire and brilliancy is the collection of diamonds in our show cases. Come and enjoy its dazzling beauty. There are rings, diamond studded bracelets and watches, sunbursts and many other articles of utility and adornment. There are gems of every size and of every price. Hermann's. The Store of True Value

THINGS THAT COUNT.

There are many interesting and useful mechanical inventions. This applies to the modern equipped woodworking machinery at Robert W. Curry's, 31-41 Chapel St. The equipping of a plant with the best of machinery has but one motive in view—to be able to turn out the best of work. This applies to panel work, which is a feature of this concern. You can buy lumber, shingles, lath, etc., here also.

YOUR NEIGHBOR

Buys cake and pastry where she thinks she gets the best. Tell her to try S. Koschny, The Viennese Confectioner, of 230-32 Thames St. and she will probably be as pleased as you were when you made your first purchase of cake and pastry at this store. Candies and ice cream for every occasion.

WE'RE BRIMFUL OF CONFIDENCE

In our ability to gratify the most exacting demands for men's fall and winter suits and overcoats. The great variety of styles, fabrics, patterns and colorings we are showing reduces to a minimum the time required to make a satisfactory selection. Full Hats and furnishings. The Knox-Hat at $3.00. Bill Goodman's, "Tog Shop."

"I would rather buy in Herrmann's than in either New York or Boston. I can get as pretty things at as reasonable a price and have better attention." This is what a lady said a few days ago about Herrmann's.

IT PAYS TO BUY THE BEST

Some people seem to think it's economy to buy the cheapest, if the price is low they are satisfied. That isn't the way to get the most out of your money—in buying meats. The best yields the most satisfaction for each penny invested in it. Try this out and you'll agree it's so. You can buy the best of meats at F. L. Congeshall's Market.

IN MAKING A PRESENT

Of a watch to anyone, a man who could give you advice that would be to your interest is Wm. E. Glazier, 96 Spring St. He handles the South Bend, Hamilton and other good makes of watches and being an expert watchmaker can advance you valuable information about watches.

IT IS TO YOUR INTEREST

To know that when you send your laundry to the Bellevue Laundry that it will be cared for by hands that are careful—this is not the slam, bang kind of a laundry but the work moves along smoothly here when it is started in its first stages and when finished the work is a credit to the laundry and satisfies the individual who receives it fresh and clean later on in the week. Phone 393.

that have been going merrily out of this store the past few weeks to homes of people in this community are genuine bargains. These pianos received slight use the past summer, having been rented to "summer people"—all were new this spring. In looking for a bargain in a piano the present is the best opportunity of the year, so do not miss it. Visit Barney's Music Store and see the same.

WHAT A GOOD CIGAR IS

To a man, a box of good candy is to a woman. Therefore, when the man who is wise wishes to enjoy a good quiet smoke he brings to his wife or sweetheart a box of chocolates or bonbons and he is "in right" for the rest of the day. We might add, he generally gets them here. Utopian Chocolates 60c lb. Seagriff's Chocolates 50c box and up. Nathan David, 2 Broadway, Cor. Farewell.

PUFFING "EL EDS" CIGARS

Isn't necessary. They do their own puffing every time they are smoked. There is a flavor and an aroma to them that tells the smoker at once they are of high grade even if they are low priced. Risk five cents and procure an "El Edo" Cigar at W. T. Rutherford's, 251 Thames St. Everybody likes them. 6 for 25c.

LONG EVENINGS

Give more time for close work. Right Glasses give more comfort and less fatigue. The important question of properly fitting glasses for the comfort and preservation of your eyes is answered when an inspection is made at the up-to-date optical parlors of F. W. Putman, Optometrist, 118 Spring St. "Take the advice of one who knows."

A CHARM WHICH WORKS

Is the charm we have. Our line of watch charms works satisfaction to our customers. We have all the latest styles and patterns. A specialty with us is the emblematic charm. No matter to what order you belong we can sell you the charm that goes with it. To go with the charm we have a splendid assortment of chains. Ruecker The Jeweler, 190 Thames St.

WHILE THE NEW BROWN

Colorings and the blues too are more attractive than ever the soft greys and new "King Color" in suitings for Fall and Winter are pleasing the men who have had the same made into suits at Neil McLennan's, 114 Broadway, opp. Mann Ave. These colors in a variety of patterns are pleasing, effective and stylish. Suits $13 and up.

JACK FROST

Will come to stay. Be ready for the cold in advance. Now is the time for a new warm suit or overcoat or the time to have your garments repaired, cleansed or pressed. Let us do the work for you. All you have to do is to take the initiative and bring your work to or leave your order with Anthony M. Marolda, 300 Thames St., and the same will be done to your satisfaction.

MY! BUT IT FEELS GOOD

To take a bath in a beautiful, clean enameled tub. Beats the old zinc bath a thousand per cent. The enameled tub is healthier too. No place for germs to lodge and breed disease. Better have one put in your home. Sanitary plumbing is no longer a luxury it is an absolute necessity. Barker Bros. & Co., 133 Broadway. Phone 215.

A FOOTBALL PLAYER

Had his jersey torn from his back the other day while practicing on one of the local fields. He came right in the next day to the store of A. C. Landers & Son and found another jersey for that afternoon's practice. This store has the line of football togs this season that the fellows are all crazy about.

THE DUNHAM SHOE

In a shoe of quality for men. Considering style, fit, workmanship and service the Dunham Shoe will give you satisfaction in every detail. There are reasons why the Dunham Shoe will suit you. They wear well, look dressy and sell for $3.50 and $4.00 per pair. All leathers and in button and lace. Try a pair of these shoes for good wearing qualities F. Carrella's Shoe Store, 153 Broadway.

EVERY FACE IS ATTRACTIVE

In some respect. It is our business to discern the attractive feature and to bring it out in our photographs. If your photographs heretofore have not proved satisfactory a sitting at this studio will be a move that will produce a photograph that will satisfy you. This is not an exorbitantly high-priced studio, but our work are very reasonable. The Ernst Portrait Studio, 126 Bellevue avenue.

WE FURNISH ICE CREAM

LITTLE GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP.

Sunday Schools in Rhode Island Barely Holding Their Own.

State Association Concludes Session at All Saints' Memorial Church, Providence.

The annual convention of the Rhode Island State Sunday School Association concluded its sessions Wednesday evening at All Saints' Memorial Church, Providence. Two interesting addresses were features of the morning session. One was by Frank L. Brown of New York, an official of the World's Sunday School Association. The other was by Randall J. Condon, superintendent of the Providence public schools, whose topic was "The Place of the Sunday School in Education."

Reports from many of the officers and committee were received. Miss Clarissa Davis, the new field worker, told of her labors during the past year, including visits to 679 families representing 2,406 individuals; the forming of six new house departments, with 121 members, and four cradle rolls, with 45 nmebers. She declared that a house-to-house canvass in the sections gone over had shown that only about 2 per cent of the men between the ages of 18 and 46 were members of the Sunday Schools; only 60 per cent of children between 6 and 18 years were members of the Sunday Schools, and out of 2,254 people interviewed who had church inclinations, only 440 were church members.

The report of General Secretary W. R. Wilson was of unusual interest, calling attention to the fact that the year just closed was a strenuous one for all in Rhode Island interested in Christian work. Under the heading of statistics, the report deals fully with the present conditions of the work in the state. It says: "Instead of gathering the complete statistics of our state every year, we seek to correct our mailing list annually and to gather complete statistics of the schools every three years, in the year of the international convention.

"During the three years 1908-1911 we have lost nine schools and gained in Sunday School membership only 279; and gained in average attendance only 130. We have gained 24 home departments and 717 home department members; we have gained 33 cradle rolls and 1,057 cradle roll members, thus making a gain of 2,053 Sunday School members in all departments.

"There are 38 more junior departments than there were three years ago, and a gain of 16 teachers' meetings a loss of 17 teacher training classes and a loss of 695 scholars joining the church. The comparative statistical report is as follows:

"Number of Sunday Schools in 1908 was 345, in 1911, 335, a loss of 10; number of Sunday Schools open all the year in 1908, 295, in 1911, 283, a loss of 12; number of home departments in 1908, 122, in 1911, 146, a gain of 24; cradle roll in 1908, was 131 and in 1911, 184, a gain of 33; teachers' meetings in 1908 was 36, in 1911, 52, a gain of 16; teacher training classes in 1908, 43 and in 1911, was 26, a loss of 17; Decision day in 1908 was 83, in 1911, 51, a loss of 32; total membership in 1908 was 109,00, and in 1911 it was 51,179, a gain of 29; the average attendance in 1908 was 30,054, and in 1911 it was 30,244, a gain of 190; home department membership in 1908 was 4,129, and in 1911 it was 4,846, a gain of 717; cradle roll membership in 1908 was 3,156, and in 1911 it was 4,213, a gain of 1,057; the grand total of membership in 1908 was 58,185, and in 1911 it was 60,238, a gain of 2,053; number who joined the church in 1908 was 1,918, as against 1223 in 1911, a loss of 695; in junior department in 1908 was 65, and in 1911 it was 103, a gain of 38.

"From this report it will be seen that the Sunday Schools in Rhode Island are barely holding their own, and that there is practically no gain in membership during the three years, while the country at large shows a gain in Sunday School membership of 1,431,006."

At the evening session officers were elected as follows.

President—Rev. W. B. Barr, Central Falls.

First Vice President—Isaac B. Burgess, Providence.

Second Vice President—Rev. Hugh B. Carpenter, Providence.

Recording Secretary—Frederick B. Church, Barrington.

Treasurer—George W. Smith, Providence.

An address by Rev. A. K. DeBlois, D. D. of Boston, on "The Youth and the Book," brought the sessions to an end.

MEN AS TREES WALKING.

[Lippincott's.]

A company of motion-picture actors and actresses gave a performance of "Chantecler" on the grounds adjoining the suburban studio of a film-manufacturing company. A little later one of the actors, out for a walk, came upon a man seated by the roadside and weeping bitterly.

"What's the matter?" inquired the sympathetic player.

"I'm one of the patients at the sanitarium over yonder," explained the despairing one. "Yesterday the doc said I was well—boo-hoo—and that I could leave in a day or two. And what do you suppose I saw this morning? Roosters and hens six feet high and talkin' just like humans! If I got away from that sanitarium in 10 years, I'll be doing mighty well."

PERSONALS.

It is announced that Andrew Carnegie has given $120,000 for the establishment of a Norwegian hero fund.

A Pekin despatch to the London Times says an imperial rescript confirms the appointment of Francis Arthur Aglen as deputy inspector general of the imperial maritime customs, China, as the successor of Sir Robert Hart.

Walter Freeman of Barre, Vt., who although 36 years old was but three and one half feet tall, is dead of acute indigestion. Freeman weighed 50 pounds and is said to have been the smallest man in the state. He had received many alluring offers to appear on the stage as a Lilliputian, but preferred to remain at home.

Archduke Ferdinand Charles, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, who recently renounced his rank and all privileges as a member of the imperial family, has married in Switzerland the daughter of Hofrat Mayr, a professor of engineering. The archduke wished to renounce his rank in 1902 to marry this young woman, but the emperor refused his permission. The marriage, however, is now with His Majesty's consent and he has created his nephew an annuity of 40,000 crowns. The archduke has assumed the surname of Burg and will reside in Switzerland.

Misnetuck Club Women Win in Tennis Tournament Against Bristol Players.

The women of the Excelsior Tennis Club of Bristol played a return game in this city Wednesday with those of the Misnetuck Club at the courts on Greenough place. The local players won six matches, 12 sets to 2.

Mrs. Lorillard Spencer beat Miss Madeline Reynolds, 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Julia Brown beat Miss Helen Church, 6-4, 6-2.

Miss Anita Barrett beat Miss Madeline B. Reynolds, 6-1, 6-1.

After luncheon in the clubhouse the order was reversed.

Miss Brown beat Miss Reynolds, 7-5, 6-6.

Miss Barratt beat Miss Church, 3-6; 7-5; 6-1.

In this match Miss Church led 2-0 in the second set; after winning the first, but was outlasted. The three Newporters and the two Bristol girls all played better than they did in the previous matches at Bristol.

In the extra sets, "for fun," several of the women averaged eight sets apiece, which was more than some had ever played before.

Finally, in the doubles, Miss Brown and Miss Barrett beat the best Bristol combination, Miss Madeline Reynolds and Miss Helen Church, 1-6, 6-3, 6-0.

The woman champion of the club, Miss Marian Dowling was out of town, but the Excelsior club could furnish few better players in mid-summer.

A good deal of work had been done on the courts which made them as good as at any time this summer, in spite of the rain. Clay to re-surface has been dumped east of the courts, which makes chasing the ball a little like climbing the Alps, so the backstop was moved in.

Much hard work for the meet was done by Miss Mary Leonard, resulting in a very successful event.

VALUE OF FRUIT AS FOOD.

[Chicago Tribune.]

In these days of impure drinking water, water famines and filtered water it is well to know that one of the great advantages of fruit is that it offers us pure water, for which we do not need a filter, to the amount of nearly 50 per cent in berries and 93 per cent in watermelons.

Oranges and lemons are not only valuable by reason of their potash salts, but especially for their citric acid. A case of paralysis of the entire right side is reported, where the juice of oranges, adopted as a regular diet, with chicken broth, appeared to do much good.

As an aid to digestion—a really material aid—the pineapple stands alone among the fruit. Its vegetable pepsin neutralizes—or, perhaps, rather digests—albuminous substances in the stomach. Fresh pineapple—or, better, still, the fresh juice of one—placed in direct contact with eggs or gelatine or milk, will prove the fact conclusively by producing a better tasting dish. In cases of catarrhal ailments of the throat and in its downward connection the alimentary canal or tract pineapple cannot be overestimated, and it acts with equal force in malarial affections.

As for the date and the banana, they contain sufficient nutriment to sustain life. The salts and organic acids in the apple tend to improve the quality of the blood.

THE CONQUEROR.

[Emil Carl Aurin.]

It's easy to laugh when the skies are blue
And the sun is shining bright;
Yes, easy to laugh when your friends are true
And there's happiness in sight;
But when hope has fled and the skies are gray,
And the friends of the past have turned away,
Ah, then indeed, it's a hero's feat
To conjure a smile in the face of defeat.

It's easy to laugh when the storm is o'er
And your ship is safe in port;
Yes, easy to laugh when you're on the shore
Secure from the tempest's sport;
But when wild waves wash o'er the storm-swept deck
And your gallant ship is a battered wreck,
Ah, that is the time when it's well worth while
To look in the face of defeat with a smile.

It's easy to laugh when the battle's fought
And you know that the victory's won;
Yes easy to laugh when the prize you sought
Is yours when the race is run;
But here's to the man who can laugh when the blast
Of adversity blows, he will conquer at last,
For the hardest man in the world to beat
Is the man who can laugh in the face of defeat.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE

THE COMPLAINT OF ITALY.

Turkey has a good deal of which to complain, but apart from appeals to the nations of Europe to pull Italy off we hear nothing from her. Italy has nothing of which to complain, and therefore is complaining. The point is that Turkey is trying her patience; Turkey is too slow. But Turkey isn't doing a thing to her; what's the matter with Italy?

We gather from rather meagre despatches that Italy thinks it is more than time for Turkey to hoist the white flag, or throw up the sponge, or yell for mercy, or indicate in some other way that she is prepared to give up everything which Italy demands as the price of peace. Of course Turkey has lost Tripoli, for Italy already has that. It was understood that the war was undertaken for the sake of taking Tripoli and, that having been accomplished, we should suppose Italy would call off her warships, set up her civil government in Tripoli and go on with her business. What more is there to fight about?

The costs. It is implied in the despatches that Italy expects Turkey to go down on her knees and beg the privilege of having the bill of expenses sent to her. It has put Italy to some expense to occupy Tripoli. Of course she has secured Tripoli, and if that is what she desired it might be supposed that she would find it a compensation for her expenditures, but in modern warfare there is a considerable element of financial speculation. Italy has not only deprived Turkey of her African province, but she expects to be paid for the expense of the act and is impatient because Turkey has not yet asked to have the bill made up for her to settle.

Bismarck established the fashion of indemnities. It was not entirely original with him, but he applied the principle of a casual extortion as if it were an established principle of international law that the nation which is beaten shall pay the conqueror for the expense of beating her. This is a temptation to powerful nations, and it deters weaker from defending their rights lest they shall lose their property also. The indemnity encourages the bullying nations and adds to the difficulties of the small and pacific countries in defending themselves.

CITY FARMS INSTEAD OF JAILS.

Not only are the authorities of many states adopting in some form and to some extent the plan of giving prisoners more liberty and providing for them more open-air employment, but some cities are following the same idea in regard to jails. They are substituting for these places of confinement farms in the open country, where prisoners can be employed out of doors, with great improvement to their health, while they are the wards of the city because of misdemeanors committed against the law. Out in Tacoma recently the new administration favored strongly the purchase of a farm to be cultivated by the occupants of the jail instead of the erection of a new prison or an addition to the old one, believing this would be more economical and much more desirable. The matter was brought up by the need of doing something for the accommodation of the increasing number of prisoners in the jail, that building being inadequate to hold all who are sent to it for confinement, and the new government advised a city farm instead of a new or a larger jail.

In support of the idea it was argued that a farm would be less expensive as regards its initial cost and also in point of maintenance, as the prisoners would do practically all the work. Further, it was asserted that it would be much better for the prisoners to be employed in the open air on the farm than maintained in idleness and close confinement in the jail. To the objection that it would not be safe to give the prisoners such liberty as would be necessary under the farm system, it was answered that the plan is working admirably in other places and there was no reason to believe the men in the Tacoma jail were different from those elsewhere or less to be relied upon when placed upon their honor. This Tacoma incident is another indication of the change in the attitude of the public toward prisoners and the modern method of treating them which is rapidly gaining ground all over the country.

EMPLOYES' INDEMNITY.

Some one with an aptitude and a taste for figures has estimated that the cost of providing complete indemnity against loss of pay by employes from sickness, death, accident or other cause would probably reach an amount equal to 25 per cent of the average daily wage. This is a large proportion and would mean an expense which would seem to make almost prohibitive any attempt to provide such insurance. The man who made the computation, however, does not so regard the situation. On the contrary he declares that the very magnitude of the figures ought to be an incentive to the undertaking, because they show how vast is the waste incident to the present social and industrial conditions and consequently how great would be the saving if some plan were put into operation for the prevention of this great loss. He believes that the simple fact that such a waste now exists ought and will sooner or later awaken the people to a realization that something must be done to stop it, and that when that step is taken it would be wise and possible to make a complete job and settle the matter once for all.

The argument of this writer is not without force, though it may be that he is advising more than it is advisable to do at one time. It is certainly true that it is time something more definite, adequate and fair was done to make the conditions under which the workingman performs his task more endurable and safer. The subject is an important one and is being widely recognized as such, so that there is hope that the problem will be dealt with soon on a scale more commensurate with its merits and better calculated to result in permanent benefit to the working people. All over the country some progress is being made in this direction, but what has been done thus far is not of such a character as to settle permanently the issues involved. That is what is needed or the problem will continue to confront the public and the employers, instead of being eliminated by adequate action for the amelioration of the condition of the workingman in this connection.

RELIGION AND LABOR.

Near Chicago there is a church which has been paying its pastor $120 a month. That is not a princely income but it is more than many clergymen receive. However, the minister cannot be blamed for seeking to supplement his income, and he took a job as [illegible] last week. The church objected to this on the ground that it was undignified for a minister to put on overalls and do manual labor. Therefore he has resigned.

At a time when all the churches are trying to establish more amicable relations with the working people, this action is at least unfortunate. It affects only a single congregation, but the fact that one church objects to its minister performing manual labor is not calculated to promote the efforts of other congregations to be upon more intimate terms with the working classes. It is only just, however, to observe that these classes are already largely represented in the churches, but if it is desired that the relations between the churches and the wage earners should be closer than they are manual labor would better not be treated as too undignified for a preacher of the gospel.

Most pastors have quite enough work in their churches without engaging in anything else. If a congregation can do it, and needs all the time of a minister, it ought to pay him enough to live on decently. Yet there are plenty of ministers in the country whose salaries are small, and who have fewer demands on their time than pastors of city churches, who partially support themselves by working farms and are all the better for this common interest between them and their parishioners.

A religion founded by the Carpenter whose earliest adherents were fishermen and whose most distinguished apostle was a tent maker certainly cannot be hurt by combining the functions of the ministry with manual labor. It is a sound principle of the highest authority that they who live of the gospel should live by the gospel, but St. Paul worked at his trade in order that he might preach without being a financial charge to anybody. Manual labor did not impress him as undignified.

The announcement that the Chinese government has withdrawn its request for permission to postpone payment to the United States of the current instalment of the Boxer indemnity is creating considerable speculation in Washington. This action is regarded as indicating that China has succeeded in securing a secret loan, as it is not believed that any arrangement could have been effected with the revolutionists for the re-establishment of order. The obtaining of a loan from a secret source would be regarded as a matter of deep concern to all powers interested in China, unless it clearly appeared that the nation which advanced the money has not received as recognition of such action some part of Chinese territory or some special privilege which would work to the detriment of other nations.

The customs service has prepared statistics to show that the average ad valorem rate of duty collected in this country during the two years' operation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff is actually less than the corresponding rate during the 12 years of the Dingley law. In the fiscal year which ended June 30, last the value of imports was $1,527,945,652 and the duties collected amounted to $309,681,944. This was about half of all the government's revenue. Politicians, particularly those who are crying for a lower tariff, are not expected to see these figures.

A Paris leader in fashions, visiting in this country, says that within five years a man, to follow fashion correctly, will be forced to don a powdered wig, wear tight-fitting knee breeches, silk stockings, shoes with buckles and shirts with lace ruffles at the sleeves. Fashions undoubtedly run in cycles, but it is to be hoped that there will not be a return to his style of dress.

THE NOVEMBER MAGAZINES

The November Century begins that magazine's eighty-third volume and this gives the number special interest, aside from its varied list of good things. Perhaps first in importance is a one-act play by the late Sir William S. Gilbert, one of two secured by the Century since that noted playwright's death. It is a character study of a man of the lower London classes under sentence of death, and has a certain Dickens quality. It is called "The Hooligan," and there are illustrations by Reginald Birch. Another popular writer represented is the author of "The Broad Highway," Jeffery Farnol, who contributes a romantic short story, "The Journey's End."

Henry T. Finck, an authority on food and cookery, has the first of three suggestive articles on "Ungastronomic America." While it is true that American cookery has made considerable progress since the days of "Martin Chuzzlewit" (1843), yet in Mr. Finck's opinion we still perpetrate many gastronomic atrocities. The author presents a theory of wholesome eating and later articles will treat of multiplying the pleasures of the table and the future of cooking and eating.

Other features include an account of eighteenth-century color prints and English society, by Royal Cortissoz; a narrative of unique personal experiences in the Andes, by Charles Johnson Post, the first of a series of travel papers; two articles on Lafayette, and a timely and significant discussion, "The Western Student as Seen by His Instructors," by Professor William Stearns Davis of the University of Minnesota.

The November National Magazine embodies the sentiment of Thanksgiving hospitality and affection from the cover design, whereon the good old New England farmer, with fluttering "comforter" about his neck, is trudging joyously homeward with the indispensable turkey for the Thanksgiving dinner. Although "everybody is away" at Washington, the ubiquitous Joe Chapple finds plenty of interesting things to chronicle of November doings at the capital city, even if the nation's solons are looking after their fences.

An appreciative tribute to the California poet and scientist, Charles Keeler, is contributed by George Wharton James. A frank judgment of "The American Theatre" is passed by Henry Kolker, the young star who is considered the logical successor of the late Richard Mansfield. The editor tells about "Making Laws in Holland," being an account of his late observations in the land of dunes, dykes and polders. The fiction for the month seems to have been selected with a special eye for the Thanksgiving season. Among the verses scattered through the number are William Hodge's stanzas "To Suzanne at Twelve."

RECORD TRIP BY NAVY AIRMEN.

After a flight in a hydro-aeroplane 145 miles down the coast from Annapolis, Md., Lieutenants Gordon Ellyson and John G. Towers, U. S. N., landed late Wednesday on the broad reach of Buckroe Beach, Va., three miles from Fortress Monroe. The officers were suffering from the bitter cold when they landed, and hurried to shelter.

Lieutenant Ellyson, who was in charge of the naval aeronautical school at Annapolis, and Lieutenant Towers made their descent after the most remarkable and successful flight in the history of naval aviation, having flown from Annapolis, a distance of 145 miles, in the remarkable time of 2 hours and 27 minutes. The flight, which was made without slip or mishap, was the second attempt in as many weeks, the plucky aviators being forced to return to Annapolis on their former trial, owing to engine trouble, after covering half the distance.

When they sighted Old Point Comfort, the aviators began to look about for a place to alight. The engine was stopped, and the big hydro-aeroplane was allowed to settle in the water, which it did with the grace of a gull. The gear was changed to the propellor shaft, and the machine was run ashore. At the point of landing the shore is practically uninhabited, and before the lieutenants could secure communication with Washington to impart the news of their successful flight, they were forced to travel seven miles to a telegraph office.

Lieutenant Ellyson said the start from Annapolis was made in a strong east wind, which continued throughout the trip, and which grew stronger toward the end. However, he said, the machine had little difficulty in keeping its course, and a straight course was steered down the west shore of Chesapeake bay. The speed of the machine varied from 50 to 70 miles an hour, and averaged a speed of nearly 60 miles. Each of the lieutenants took turns at steering by means of the shift control, and both were relieved of the strain that would have occurred without such control. After selecting a landing place, the aviators will return to their machine and fly with it to Old Point.

They expect to make the return trip to Annapolis Friday, starting in the morning.

WIELDERS OF THE RACQUET.

Dixon of England Brackets Larned and Little as the Foremost Americans.

C. P. Dixon, who led the British Isles lawn tennis team in the preliminary tie matches on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club, New York, has some interesting comment upon the methods of leading American players in the latest issue of the English official organ, which arrived in this country recently.

The famous Briton brackets William A. Larned and Raymond D. Little as the foremost American wielders of the racquet. That will not be surprising to those who watched the remarkable work of Little this season, for he easily surpassed all previous performances, and his ripe versatility and skillful execution won for him a national championship in the doubles which he richly deserved. The Englishman appears to regard weakness at back-court play as the chief fault of the American game. He writes, in part, as follows:

"There are several points of contrast between American and English lawn tennis players and their methods. One is forcibly struck by the comparative weakness of American players from the base line as much as by anything else at first sight. There are, of course, a few notable exceptions; for instance, W. A. Larned, the United States champion, whose back-court play is perhaps the principal feature of his excellence. Raymond D. Little is another player whose powerful forehand drive constitutes a deadly engine of attack. These two Americans possess styles more approaching those of our own leading players.

"The Wrenn brothers, though neither is particularly severe off the ground, possess methods more in accordance with many of the English school. R. D. Wrenn, an ex-champion of the United States, reminds me a good deal of R. B. Powell in his net play, and his similarity is increased by the fact of their both being left-handed. In doubles the Wrenns are more subtle than forcing, and they frequently employ the lob with great effect.

"The general body of American players, as compared with our own, show an inferiority both in the pace and length of their ground strokes. There are no players in the United States with quite the force behind the driving of S. H. Smith or the power and consistency of A. W. Gore at their best. The 'stiff-arm' drive is hardly ever seen, in style and execution we are superior also. The strokes of a large number of American players off the ground are belabored—they get there, but more energy is expended in so doing. Even among their first-class players several use the chop, and the clean, hard hitting practiced so continually here is conspicuously absent in the play of the Americans.

"More importance is attached by our friends on the other side to service and volleying, and in these departments the superiority of their players over us is most marked. To gain the net position and win the ace by a clean placed volley seems to be the paramount consideration with most of their players. In fact, their methods may be described as bustling.

"As to service, Maurice E. McLoughlin's service is of the fast, swerving American type, and skillfully placed as it generally is, it enables him to use his great volleying powers effectively. Very few of his countrymen are so powerfully armed in this respect, but numbers possess very awkward services, notwithstanding. T. C. Bundy, the player from Los Angeles, has a puzzling reverse service, and many others could be named who score heavily in this department. The services of our own leading players on the whole suffer much in comparison. I include in volleying all overhead work, and here again the Americans are the stronger, in that they are more consistent.

"McLoughlin's smashing is as severe as that of any player I have come across; and very rarely does he miss a 'sitter.' Though the Californian in this particular is facile princeps in America, many other players smash almost as well, not only from close to the net, but some distance back."

AN UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT.

[Lippincott's.]

The Poor Relation had not been invited to the formal function at the great house but he went to the door in spite of that oversight.

"Where's your card?" inquired the First Gentleman in Waiting.

"Nobody can get in without a card."

"Well, I'm nobody," murmured the Poor Relation, but the First Gentleman in Waiting could not grasp the delicate humor of it, and the Poor Relation was turned away.

(Seal)

WHEREAS James F. Sheehey and others by their petition to the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newport in said State have prayed said Board to declare the following described piece of land to be a public highway, to wit: A certain open street or way called Lucas Avenue being about thirty feet in width and extending from Thames Street to Marchant Street, and representing that said highway has been quietly, peaceably and actually used and improved and considered as a public highway for the space of more than twenty years last past. And it being shown to said Board that you are interested in or have claim to said land through which said so-called highway is laid, or some part thereof, said Board referred the consideration of said petition to the 26th day of October A. D. 1911 at 8:15 o'clock P. M. in the Council Chamber in the City Hall.

YOU ARE THEREFORE hereby notified to appear before said Board at said time and place, if you see fit, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted and said piece of land declared by said Board of Aldermen to be a public highway according to the Statute in such case made and provided.

Ordered and given by said Board of Aldermen on the 3d day of October A. D. 1911.

Signed and sealed by order and in behalf of said Board of Aldermen by F. N. Fullerton, Clerk of said Board, on the day last aforesaid.

Clerk.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair tonight and Friday; light winds, generally westerly.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Although there is considerable cloudiness over all parts of the country, except New England, the southwest and extreme northwest, there is no storm area in any section, the only precipitation that has occurred during the past 24 hours having been light showers or snow flurries in the upper Lake region and widely scattered points in the Missouri valley. The pressure has diminished somewhat in eastern districts, with the eastward passage of the high pressure area that yesterday overlay New England. The influence of the northwestern high pressure area, however, maintains the pressure above the normal in the central valleys and middle states. The temperature is higher in the southwest and lower in the upper Mississippi valley, but otherwise there is little change. At 8 a. m. in New York it was 50, Washington 44, Atlanta 60, Jacksonville 70, St. Louis 44, Chicago 46, St. Paul 30, Omaha 34, Kansas City 42, Denver 34, Los Angeles 60, San Francisco 54 and Portland, Oregon, 44.

CONSIDERATION OF EVIDENCE BEGUN.

Sufficient Proof to Convict Richeson of Murder.

Case Noted for the Rapidity With Which It Went to the Grand Jury

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—The consideration by the Suffolk County grand jury of the evidence secured by the prosecution against Rev. Clarence Virgil Thompson Richeson, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Cambridge, who is charged with the murder of Avis Linnell, a music student of Hyannis, began at the court house in Pemberton Square today. Chief Joseph Dugan of the bureau of criminal investigation of the Boston police department and District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier were in charge of the government's case against the accused minister. Both officials expressed confidence that they had evidence sufficient not only to indict but also to convict Mr. Richeson of the crime with which he is charged.

Among the witnesses who came to the court house prepared to appear before the grand jury were Mrs. Edgar Linnell of Hyannis, mother of the tragedy victim, Mrs. W. H. McLean of Brockton, sister of the dead girl, and Mr. McLean; William Hahn, the Newton Centre druggist, who says he sold cyanide of potassium to Mr. Richeson October 10; Miss Patterson, superintendent of the Boston Young Women's Christian Association home on Warrenton street, where the Linnell girl died, and several young woman who live at the Young Women's Christian Association and who were friends of Miss Linnell.

It's expected it will take two and perhaps three days for the grand jury to hear all the witnesses summoned by the district attorney.

Probably no other case of such importance in this state ever moved with the rapidity of that which went to the grand jury today. The grand jurors took up consideration of the evidence against Pastor Richeson six days after his arrest. He had been taken before the lower court and a hearing had been set for October 31, but the district attorney stepped into the matter and called a special session of the grand jury. This move will preclude the defense from securing a line on the prosecution's evidence, while a hearing in the lower court would necessarily have exposed the entire government's case.

The grand jurors retired to their room at 9:30, where they were addressed briefly by Associate Justice George A. Sanderson of the superior court, who is presiding at one of the criminal sessions here. District Attorney Pelletier presented the evidence to the jury.

The first witness heard was the medical examiner, Dr. Timothy Leary, who performed the autopsy on Miss Linnell's body, and who first called the attention of the police to the probable fact that her death was a case of murder and not suicide. Dr. Leary was before the grand jury about half an hour.

When he came out of the room, Mrs. Linnell and Mrs. McLean, mother and sister of the victim, went in. Mrs. Linnell was leaning on the arm of Captain Ainsley Armstrong, of the bureau of criminal investigation. All the witnesses were kept secluded, by order of the district attorney, and could be seen only as they entered and left the jury room.

Assistant District Attorney Michael J. Dwyer announced his resignation today, to become effective November 1. Mr. Dwyer denied the report that he and Mr. Pelletier had had a disagreement. He said that he was retiring in order to take up private practice. In the meantime Mr. Dwyer will be Mr. Pelletier's active assistant in presenting the evidence in the Richeson case before the grand jury.

The hearing was suspended at 1 o'clock for luncheon. Up to that time about a dozen witnesses had been heard.

The late forenoon witnesses included Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Carter of Cambridge, in whose house Rev. Mr. Richeson boarded, Miss Patterson, superintendent of the Young Women's Christian Association, and several of Miss Linnell's fellow roomers.

CANCELLATION DECIDED UPON.

Steel Corporation Gives Up Lease of Great Northern Ore Properties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—At a special meeting today the directors of the United States Steel Corporation formally decided to cancel the corporation's lease of the Great Northern ore properties. The directors also adopted resolutions recommending to the directors of the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern Railway Company a reduction in freight rates on iron ore from points in the Mesaba range to Duluth, to a figure not exceeding 60 cents per ton and to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad Company a similar reduction in the iron ore rate from the Vermilion and Mesaba iron range to Duluth and Two Harbors, Minn.

J. Pierpont Morgan, President Farrell of the Steel Corporation, George F. Baker, Daniel G. Reid, John F. Dryden, Henry Phipps, P. A. B. Widener and Clement A. Griscom were among the prominent directors present. It was reported before the meeting that William E. Corey, former president of the corporation, would tender his resignation from the directorate.

Chairman Gary announced that no other action was taken and no other subject considered at the meeting. He declined to discuss reports that Mr. Corey, Henry Phipps or Norman B. Ream were to resign as directors.

FANS WAKE UP AGAIN.

Large Crowds Watch The News Bulletin, Hear the Megaphone Story and Use the Telephone.

When the base ball world woke up after the rain Tuesday and the games were resumed there seemed to be a lack of interest in Newport. The crowd which watched or listened to the bulletins in front of The News office was not so large as it had been, and the calls over the telephone for the score showed a great falling off. But that one game seemed to wake everyone up and Wednesday was a big day for the fans. The gathering which looked on in front of The News and made folks stop talking as the megaphone talked was the largest of any since the series began. And people found that the telephone would still ring for the score if they asked, and the telephone girls had a busier day than the day before. Today was not so pleasant, but the fans were out early and seemed as much interested in the game as ever, and the telephone began ringing early.

INDOOR COUNTY FAIR OPENED.

Seven Booths, Attractively Designed, Arranged in the Boys' Lobby.

The Indoor County Fair at the Young Men's Christian Association opened auspiciously this afternoon and it was a revelation to many to see what a transformation had taken place in a comparatively short time.

The main features of the sale are to be seen in the boys' lobby, where the decorating committee has taken great pains and lavished its best efforts. The seven booths are attractively designed, with more or less variation in construction. The centre of the hall is occupied by a rustic enclosure called the flower booth, where may be seen a profusion of fragrant plants and flowers of many varieties. This department is in charge of Mrs. John C. Seabury. Surrounding this, on either side of the hall, are six other booths—the fancy booth, in charge of Mrs. George H. Bryant; the linen booth Mrs. Robert Frame; the cake booth, Mrs. W. H. Tibbetts; the candy booth, Mrs. George H. Barlow; the apron booth, Mrs. W. H. Easton, and the table of domestic articles, Miss Mary A. Hazard.

The managers of the fair pride themselves on the horticultural and agricultural collection exhibited in the basement. In preparing this department they had the assistance of a large number of the gardeners in the summer colony. Those contributing included August Belmont, Cornelius Vanderbilt, R. L. Beeckman, Mrs. T. O. Richardson, Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, Alexander McLellan, Sisson & Thurston, Miss Fanny Foster, Mrs. Robert Goelet, Mrs. Theodore K. Gibbs, H. D. Auchincloss, Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer.

The collection of dahlias presented by Messrs. Winfield S. Sisson and Parker L. Thurston attracted much attention, comprising more than 100 specimens of the peony-flowered thing cactus varieties, the remarkable thing about them being their fine preservation so late in the season.

The collection sent from "Oakland Farm" consisted of dressed chickens and ducks, and butter; from Mr. Auchincloss an unusually fine lot of vegetables, and from the others named above mostly cut flowers and plants, including rex begonias, both large and small; dahlias, draceneas and one Jerusaleum cherry plant.

The gymnasium has been given up to novelties exclusively. There is a device for trying to knock off the farmer's hat with base balls, a hat-trimming contest for men and a little exhibit of interest to children, a number of rabbits and chickens. At the wireless station in charge of Irving Coggeshall, Walter Clarke, Donald Thurston and Stedman Ward the patrons may witness the transmission of messages across the river Styx. Miss Julia Brown draws caricatures, which she completes with much rapidity and great satisfaction. Physical Director F. H. Slocum will be in charge of making physical tests enabling any one to learn height, weight, lung capacity and lifting power.

The vaudeville part this evening will comprise impersonations by Mr. Fred P. Webber, Indian club swinging by Mr. K. B. Squires and dancing by a group of Seniors in costume.

SOME FISH COMING IN.

There were some fish today. First C. B. Anderson had a large variety—squid, robins, kingfish, herring, menhaden, tautog, hake, cod, horse mackerel, butters, conger eels, etc., of course never forget whiting—but he did not seem particularly impressed with the supply of the fish most in demand. In came Captain Jim Kelly in the Priscilla, with 38 barrels of flounders, which ought to be worth something but are not. Later came the Clara T., Captain "Chet" Tallman, temporary skipper, with 14 barrels of small mackerel. It was his first fishing expedition in more than 10 years and he had more than made good, having as many fish as the Wood & Mack, Captain Kent, and the Maude Gertrude, each of which had seven barrels of small mackerel.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Hammett are visiting in New Bedford.

—Three of the destroyers are still at the Torpedo Station. The submarine division was under way about 1:30 p. m. for New York, to be in time for the big parade.

—Mrs. William H. Taft, the President's wife, has sent a handkerchief to be sold at the Young Men's Christian Association bazaar. It will probably be auctioned off.

—Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Sisson Wednesday quietly observed their silver wedding anniversary at their home on Central street. They were married at Norwich, Conn., where Mrs. Sisson then resided.

—Cards have been received here announcing the marriage, in Hopkinton, Mass., Wednesday, of Miss Cora Adelaide Phipps, daughter of Mr. Fred Oscar Phipps of that place, to Mr. George Swan Langley, formerly of this city.

—Past Commanders William Champlon, Joseph Gibson and George C. Lawton and Captain General Robert S. Burlingame of Washington Commandery are in Boston today, attending the annual meeting of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

—Mr. William E. Dodge's fast motor boat Tarpon has gone to New York to be laid up, and was the last of the summer craft moored off the shipyard to go. It is understood that Mr. Dodge has a faster boat under construction, and it may be ready for next year. He expected to have it this year.

—It looked like a storm this afternoon. The weather was pleasant up to noon and things seemed fine, but then they changed and it looked a good deal like another storm. It seems a long time since there was any rain, but if they only finish the world's series of base ball games some people will not care much whether or not it rains.

—The highway department is putting in the new street between Wellington and West Narragansett avenues. As it was deemed unsafe to use the big roller on it, J. K. Sullivan's small roller has been secured for the work. Byrnes street is being macadamized, the curb work having been finished. One of the steam rollers is now on the lower end of Kay street.

—The High School Club of the Young Men's Christian Association in the weekly debate Wednesday evening discussed the subject, "Resolved, That a Fraternity is an Injury to a High School." The affirmative side was upheld by Hawthorne Leonard, L. Leys and Henry Reavey, and the negative, which won, was presented by Julian Johnson, Theodore Tollefson and Kenneth Morrison. After the debate three quarters of an hour was devoted to Bible study.

TRIPOLI TO BE CONQUERED FIRST.

Reports of Armistice Between Italy and Turkey Untrue.

Expedition Being Prepared to Re-inforce Troops Landed in Africa.

ROME, via frontier, Oct. 26.—All reports concerning the possibility of an armistice between Italy and Turkey are discredited in official circles, which affirm on the contrary that Italy is determined not to cease her military operations until Tripoli is wholly conquered. A partial armistice, limited to the naval forces might be possible if such a stop would help Turkey along the road to peace, based on the loss of her African province.

Premier Giolitti, in accord with the minister of war, General Springardi, is firm in his purpose to persevere in the policy of an extensive occupation of Tripoli and is preparing another expedition to re-inforce the troops already landed on the African shore and to fill the gaps caused by casualties and illness. The new expedition will comprise 1,000 Grenadiers, the men of the greatest height in the service, and the only body which was not represented in the former expeditions.

CHANCE OF MEDIATION ENDED.

Germany Sees No Intervention With Turkey Continuing the War.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Advices from Constantinople state that the reports of recent battles, with Italian losses at Tripoli, have ended for the present any chance for mediation. The Turkish government, adopting the standpoint of the people, has swung over to the idea of continuing the war. Germany, accordingly, sees no opening for intervention.

A despatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Tripoli says that 300 men were killed in the battle at Tripoli Monday. These included a large proportion of officers, and Italian reinforcements are needed. The spectres of revolution in Constantinople and complications in the Balkans are again alarming official circles here, but it is believed the danger which would result from an Italian occupation of the island in the archepalago or the bombardment of Smyrna has been removed, as there are some indications that Italy has abandoned the plan after sounding the powers.

REPORT NOT CONFIRMED.

Emperor Nicholas Reported as Having Been Assassinated, in the Crimea.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Indefinite rumors became current this morning in Vienna and Berlin that Emperor Nicholas of Russia had been assassinated. Careful inquiries, made here and in the above mentioned cities as well as in Russia, have failed to elicit the slightest confirmation of the report.

NO TRUTH IN REPORTS.

News of Attempt on Emperor's Life to Influence the Market.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—There is no truth whatever in the reports circulated abroad of an attempt on the lives of the emperor and empress. They are declared officially to have been circulated for the purpose of influencing the market.

FEW EXCEPTIONS MADE.

All Jews in Province of Yekaterinoslav Subject to Expulsion.

YUZOVKA, Russia, Oct. 26.—By an order of the governor all Jews in the province of Yekaterinoslav are subject to expulsion, with the following exceptions: First, those living in the province since May 16, 1882; second, artisans and others having permits of residence from the governor's chancery; third, those residents in since August 14, 1906, if an order of expulsion against them has already been set aside by the governor's chancery; and fourth, those who changed to a rural residence between May 16, 1882 and January 11, 1888.

Many of those thus subject to expulsion of their affairs, and to avoid the sudden expulsion prevents a liquidation of their affairs, an dto avoid financial ruin some are adopting the Russian faith.

ONE OF THE TWO ESCAPED.

But the Second of a Pair of "Workers" Caught and Pleads Guilty as an Idle Person.

Wednesday a pair of would-be willing workers arrived in Newport and at once started to work the population of the city. There were two of them and they were young and fresh, and when they began to act suspiciously in Hart's book store and assistance was called the visitors at once left. That confirmed the suspicions which the girl who was alone in the store at the time had formed because of the actions of the two.

Inspector Tobin was notified and started out and caught them. It was something of a fishing catch; he had two and finally he had only one, for one had still the disappearing nature he had shown at Hart's, and the inspector not having sure nip on him he departed. However, one did not escape, as the inspector still had him when he reached the station, shortly after 4. He said he came from Boston, and was going to do some picture work. The other fellow is still missing.

This morning the prisoner, who gave the name of Frank Waterman and said he was 23 years old and from Boston, pleaded not guilty to a charge of being an idle person and in default of bail went to jail until October 31.

THE PRACTICE MARCH.

The weekly practice march of the naval apprentices was held this afternoon, nine companies, a band, drum and bugle corps and ahospital detail forming the line, which was in command of Mate William McKay. The boys made a natty appearance in their blue jerseys and the square formation as they passed through upper Thames street. This, together with the other features of the riot drill which were executed, were applauded, not audibly but by little complimentary remarks which could be heard all along the side lines.

FOR THE IDA LEWIS FUNERAL.

Suggestion That Thames Street Store Keepers Close for an Hour and That Flags be Shown.

It has been suggested, in view of the half-holiday adopted for Thursday afternoons and the fact that there is not a rush of business at this season in the afternoon, that storekeepers, especially on Thames street, might do something pleasing Friday by closing their shops for the hour of the funeral of Ida Lewis; also, that flags be shown at half-staff.

Ida Lewis was one of the institutions of this community. Perhaps she had lived beyond many of those who knew her best, but the deeds which made her famous are remembered and the fact that she was so well known to everybody connected with Newport and who knew of Newport makes her more than an ordinary citizen. It would be a tribute to the memory of one who was known wherever the English language was read and spoken, and it could be done without loss. The matter of displaying flags of course would cost nothing but a little thought in seeing that they were up for the time of the funeral.

ACTUALLY GOES TO THE OUTER FOUNTAIN.

It does not seem exactly fair to dispel fond impressions, and one of these is that the Outer Fountain Fishing Club does not know where the Outer Fountain is, never having visited it in the new flagship Patience. Still, today that fond idea was added to the other myths with which history is crowded, for the boat did go out to the Outer Fountain. Messrs. Bradford Norman and Powel, with a party of women, took advantage of the pleasant weather and the prospects of good fishing, and after taking on bait the flagship started for the Outer Fountain. This may be considered the event of the fall season in the fishing line.

TRIMMED MILLINERY.

As a customer remarked yesterday, "It does not seem possible you could ever sell so many hats in Newport."

That is the reason our Millinery business is growing so rapidly, growing by leaps and bounds.

Large, varied assortments of the very latest correct styles, reasonably priced.

A noteworthy collection at $6.00, $8.00, $10.00, $12.00 to $50.00.

LEGAL POINT RAISED.

Jury in McNamara Case May Not be Selected for a Month.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 26.—Four talesmen, subject only to peremptory challenges, one whose challenge for cause was under consideration, and one whose examination was uncompleted, were all that were left out of a venire of 125 men summoned in the McNamara murder trial when court opened today.

In reality only 45 talesmen have been examined since the trial began, the remainder having been weeded out in a preliminary examination conducted by Judge Bordwell, who went into extraneous reasons only, leaving to counsel the work of finding out the state of mind of each talesman after the trial formally opened 16 days ago.

Several attorneys in the case figured out today that at the present rate it would take about four weeks to secure a jury. No one, however, is making estimates to the time the jury box would be filled. District Attorney John D. Fredericks refused today to make a prediction. "By the end of the week," he said, "we may be able to make one."

Unless there is objection it seemed likely today that further veniremen would be secured by calling into Judge Bordwell's court those awaiting jury service in other branches of the superior court. The alternative to this was summoning a new venire and this was considered entirely possible. No secret was made today of the fact that opposing counsel have been investigating the antecedents of veniremen now in other courts, and of all persons whose names were drawn for jury service January 1, 1911.

In this connection a legal point raised as to qualification was still unsettled today. The law provides that no man shall serve as a juror, whose name is not on the county assessment roll. The point came up in the examination of Charles H. Binder and he was excused, but at that time Judge Bordwell expressed doubt as to whether Binder's case was covered by the intent of the law.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

John H. Manchester, one of the oldest residents of the town, died this morning at his home on the East Main road, of the infirmities of age, after an illness of about a week. He was 85 years old, having been born in 1826, a son of John Manchester, and had spent his entire life in Middletown, having married in 1847 Mary E., daughter of Rescom Peckham and granddaughter of John Rogers Peckham. Mr. Manchester and a great-grandson of Isaac Manchester, both of whom were prominent citizens of the town. Mrs. Manchester died a few years ago and since her death his daughter, Mrs. Lydia McCartney, has kept house for him in the old homestead. He leaves two sons, Rescom P. and Lewis R. Manchester.

The harvest supper given Wednesday evening at the Berkeley parish house for the benefit of St. Columba's Guild was successful, a fine evening and an excellent supper calling out a good number. Mrs. Joseph F. Albro, president of the guild, was chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. Overton Peckham, Mrs. Edward J. Peckham and Mrs. Nathan Smith who had charge of the three supper tables. Mrs. Albro was also assisted by Mrs. Joel Peckham and Mrs. John Peabody. Miss Susanna Allen, Mrs. Harry E. Peckham, Mrs. John Molden and Miss Nellie R. Peckham aided in serving at the tables.

The menu included cold meats, brown bread and beans, rolls, coffee, pies, and cake. The three supper tables were ornamented with salvia and sweet geranium. The various rooms were extensively decorated with dahlias and clematis the floral effect in the guild room receiving much favorable comment, with the open fireplace arranged to represent a fire in flame-colored dahlias, the work of Mrs. E. D. Tarbell, who conducted the decorating.

Following the supper, Miss Gladys Kauil of Newport played for dancing, a number coming in especially for this. There was an attendance of more than 100.

The Cummings threshing machine from Portsmouth has begun operations in Middletown during the past week.

The Paradise Club was entertained Tuesday by Mrs. C. Edward Furnum in Newport. The subject of the afternoon, "What Women are Doing Today," was presented by Mrs. Edward A. Brown in a well prepared paper, which was supplemented by an article from the Ladies' Home Journal. Light refreshments were served.

The Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude will be observed by a special morning service conducted by Rev. Newman Lawrence at the Church of the Holy Cross. In the afternoon prominent leaders along missionary lines, from Providence and Newport, will address the Junior Auxiliary on the work planned for the winter. The speakers will be entertained by Mrs. Phebe E. T. Manchester, president of the Junior Auxiliary, and her assistants, Miss Amanda Chase and Miss Avesta Champlin.

Mr. William M. Hughes has been appointed chairman of the committees on supper, musical and advertising, for the turkey supper to be given in November by the combined parishes

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Miss Powell has returned from North Falmouth.

—Miss Martha Landers is visiting Mrs. Ernest Behrend at Erie, Pa.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas will close their Newport season Friday, going to New York for the winter.

—Mrs. Francis Ormonde French is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbilt at "Harbourview."

—Mrs. E. H. G. Slater closed her cottage, "Hopedene," on the Cliffs, today and will visit Hot Springs, Va., before going to her Washington home for the winter.

—Miss Margaret Baker, younger daughter of Joudge and Mrs. Darius Baker, was successfully operated upon for appendicitis Wednesday and had a comfortable night.

—Mrs. Thomas J. Emery will close her Middletown residence, "Maricmont," today and go to New York, where she will occupy apartments at the Hotel St. Regis.

—There was a still alarm at 6:02 Wednesday evening for a back draft in a tenement on Pond avenue. The firemen assured the people in the house that all was well.

—Mrs. Sidney Jones Colton is entertained at "Claraden Court" Wednesday evening, the dinner being followed by informal dancing for which Howard's orchestra furnished the music.

—Mr. H. A. Kalkman is building a garage in the rear of his drug store, and is building it right. Crushed stone, cement and iron beams are the material used and when these are properly combined by good workmen the result is a garage which is fireproof.

—The marriage of Miss Gwendolin Burden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, to Mr. David Dows will take place in Grace Church, New York, Tuesday, December 12.

—Rev. George Vernon Dickey, rector of St. George's Church, who was operated upon two weeks ago, was able to leave the Newport Hospital Wednesday and will leave town Friday for a three weeks' rest.

—News has been received here of the serious illness of Rev. James H. Looby, formerly assistant at St. Mary's Church in this city and now pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, North Easton, Mass.

—The traveler who believes in sleeping in the open air, and who was gathered in from the vicinity of Coddington point Wednesday, this morning pleaded guilty to a charge of sleeping out and was sent to the workhouse for six months.

—The Newport Coal Company is putting in granite block pavement on its wharf alongside the scales. This is contrary to the custom of Newport coal wharves, but it will undoubtedly prove a good investment for the company, as it will avoid the quagmire which was sure to be there in winter.

—Mr. John F. Tennant, who has been assistant engineer on the Fall River Line boats for a number of years, being a graduate from the repair shops, has left the company's employ to accept the position of engineer on Commodore James's estate, a position which will permit him to remain in Newport the year round.

—Hoseman Carr, who was thrown from Hose 1 while going to the fire Wednesday, is about today, being a little sore in the legs as a result of his tumble but not suffering otherwise. He says he was trying to wave to an automobile to give way to Hose 5, which was just behind, and in doing so let go with one hand just as the reel struck the car tracks.

—The teams in the City Basket Ball League will play for two cups this winter. The one given by Rev. W. A. Doran, D. D., is contested annually, the winners having their names engraved on it each year. Now Mr. R. L. Beeckman has given a second cup, and the executive committee will decide the terms on which it is to be played for.

—Mrs. William E. Dodge has returned from New York to close "Gravel Court," which she occupied during the past summer. She has been visiting her husband, who is in St. Luke's Hospital as a result of a broken ankle. Mr. Dodge, while playing tennis a few days ago, slipped, breaking one of the small bones of the ankle. He will be confined to the hospital about 10 days, when he will go to his residence.

—News comes from Sacramento, Cal., of the sudden death, through heart failure, of Monseigner Thomas John Capel, at one time one of the most talked-about men in the English Catholic Church and one who years ago, when he came to America to raise funds for his school, preached at St. Mary's Church in this city and was one of the big visitors of that time. He had been living in seclusion in California for a number of years.

—The play which the Walter Lowrie Club is to give Tuesday evening is called "A Romance of the Golden West." It is in the hands of the Club's well known amateurs, which insures a pleasing entertainment. After the play the floor will be cleared for those who wish to dance. It is a custom of this club each year to give such an entertainment, donating a part of the proceeds to some other society. This year it has been decided to help swell the fund of $2,500 which the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal Church is endeavoring to raise for the improvement of its property.

Mothers of Skin Tortured and Disfigured Children!

You should know that a warm bath with Cuticura Soap and a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment will, in most cases, bring immediate relief, the little sufferers will sleep, tired, fretted mothers will rest, and peace will fall on distracted households.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. 16N, Boston, will secure liberal samples of each, with 32-p. booklet on the skin.

A REGAL HEAD

How often do we hear or see this expression used in describing a beautiful woman!

Denude that head of its hair and instead of a queenly, royal bearing we have a fright. The hair makes all the difference. To have that glorious abundance of radiant hair which always crowns "a regal head," one should use Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide represents the last word in scientific hair culture. It destroys the dandruff germ, checks falling hair and corrects generally, diseases of the hair and scalp.

The positive results and its delicate but refreshing odor recommends Newbro's Herpicide to ladies of refinement everywhere.

Applications made by the best barbers and hair dressers.

DEALER BEATS STANDARD OIL.

Claims He Was Forced Out of Business and Recovers Damages.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—John J. Moran, formerly a well-to-do dealer in oils and paints here, won $3,243 damages against the Standard Oil Company today on the ground that the corporation had forced him out of business. Mr. Moran sued for $31,000. He charged that the Standard Oil Company was anxious to obtain his business, and finally ruined his trade by furnishing him goods of such poor quality that he lost his customers.

IN THE REVOLT AT HANKOW.

American Gunboat Helena and British Gunboat Thistle Participate.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—A detailed report of the fighting at Hankow, October 12, received here, states that American gunboat Helena and British gunboat Thistle participated.

This is the first report of the revolt at Hankow which has reported the foreign warships as taking any part, and is contrary to the best information from all other sources. Other German messages from Hankow have lacked confirmation.

PARTY IMPRESSED WITH WEST.

The Taft Entourage Passes Through Green Bay En Route to Capital.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Oct. 26.—On this, his forty second day out of Washington, President Taft in fact entered "the enemy's country" Wisconsin, the home of Senator La Follette, who is to be his opponent for the Presidential nomination in 1912.

The President left St. Paul last night at 10:30 o'clock and arrived here early this morning. His principal stops on the way to Milwaukee, where he is due to arrive tonight, include in addition to Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh and Fond Du Lac. The last named city will be reached about 4 p. m., according to the revised schedule. There will be a large number of intermediate stops and speeches from the private car during the day. The President will speak in the auditorium at Milwaukee tonight and will spend the greater part of tomorrow there.

In the estimation of members of the Taft party the reception given the President in Green Bay, his first stop in Wisconsin, was not surpassed at any point on his present trip. There were thousands of persons along the line of march and more than 15,000 stood around the court house to hear Mr. Taft's speech on peace and arbitration. They applauded gently.

There were disappointed would-be farmers on board President Taft's special train when it passed through here today. Among them were White House stenographers, Presidential secretaries, military aides, official physicians, secret service men, messengers, newspaper men and Pullman porters. Visions of ranch life, of tilling the soil, of independent wealth, automobiles and all that go to make up the happy estate of the modern farmer, had been rudely brushed away and the disconsolate party was on its way back to Washington, where its members will resume their vocations they have followed these many years.

Many of the men in the President's party had never been in the real West before. Whether as a result of their own investigation or what they beheld from the car windows, or the wonderful tales poured into their credulous ears by the "boosters" of the great-western country, all the way to California and back again, nearly all of them had become impressed with the fact that a ranch somewhere west of the Mississippi or Missouri river would be just about ideal.

Secretary Hilles had prepared to leave politics forever and to settle down to the calm, carefree life of the alfalfa fields. Major Archie Butt, Presidential aide, was suprised to learn that he could become a millionaire and quit living on army ration in little or no time. Major Rhodes, the President's physician, thought that in addition to becoming a wealthy farmer he could soon build up a county practice that would make his army pay look like a widow's mite. So it was all along the line. Everybody on board the President's train had determined that the thing to do was to give up real work and go "back to the soil." President Taft helped matters along occasionally by preaching the doctrine of scientific agriculture and intensified farming as recommended by "Uncle Jimmie" Wilson, at Washington.

This was the state of mind of the Taft entourage when his train slowly puffed its way into Rapid City, S. D., last Saturday. President Taft made a good impression on the people of Rapid City, but nothing like the impression that was made upon the members of his party by a sign right across the street from his speaking stand. "United States registration office" it read.

Then the word was passed around that the government was giving away hundreds upon hundreds of acres of valuable land in the Rosebud and Pine Ridge reservations of South Dakota. All you had to do was to register your name, pay 25 cents to a notary public and swear that you did not own 160 acres of land anywhere else. Everybody on the train registered, with the exception of the President. He was being entertained at dinner and could not slip away with all the rest.

After registering and swearing and paying the 25 cents, the party was told that the applications they made for 160 acres of land apiece would be forwarded to Gregory. There they would be mingled with only about 50,000 other applications for the 3,000 tracts available for distribution. Then a little girl would pick out the fortunate ones. The land lottery began at Gregory Tuesday.

Yesterday and today the Presidential party scanned the news to see which of them would secure the more desirable sections. There were only 950 drawings published and not a Presidential follower was in the list. The sad blow came on top of the information imparted just before leaving Rapid City, that only the first 200 sections really would make it worth while for a man who aspired to become a millionaire to pull up stakes in the East and seek his fortune in the rolling west. Anybody who mentioned agriculture on the train today was in danger of his life.

EXPECTANT OF RELEASE.

Rev. Frank W. Sandford Believes He Will be Free by Nightfall.

PORTLAND, Maine, Oct. 26.—After passing the night in a cell in the west wing of the Cumberland County jail, Rev. Frank W. Sanford, a leader of the Holy Ghost and Us Society at Shiloh, who became prisoner of the federal authorities yesterday, on the charge of causing the death of one of his missionaries by failing to provide sufficient food and neglecting to go into port when he was dying with scurvy, arose early today and was expectant of being released before nightfall on bail. Friends of the well known leader of a religious sect that has attracted widespread attention through its organization in Maine and missionary work in many parts of the world, especially in the Holy Land, were busily engaged in securing bondsmen to furnish the $5,000 bail ordered by United States Commissioner Bradley yesterday, when Sandford was arraigned and his hearing continued until next Wednesday morning.

Captain A. K. Perry, one of the leader's chief lieutenants, who remained with him last night until it was too late to furnish bonds, but did not care to spend the night in jail, rejoined Mr. Sandford early this forenoon and resumed his attendance upon him. Captain Perry has been directing the arrangements for obtaining sureties. In the civil action on which Rev. Mr. Sandford was arrested bonds in the sum of $10,000 were furnished Saturday by two elderly Lisbon Falls men who are friends of the institution.

The next session of the grand jury of the United States district court will be held here in December, and should Mr. Sandford be held his case will come before that body.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 54¾, American Beet Sugar 68¾, American Cotton Oil 45, American Smelting and Refining 65¾, Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe 108¾, Baltimore & Ohio 97, Canadian Pacific 231¼, Chesapeake & Ohio 73½, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 108, Erie 31¾, Great Northern Ore Ctfs. 43, Interborough Metropolitan 14¾, Northern Pacific 118¾, Pennsylvania 122¾, Reading 149¾, Rock Island 25¾, Southern Pacific 109¾, Southern Railway 28¾, Union Pacific 162¾, United States Steel 69¾, United States Steel preferred 109¼, Lehigh Valley 165¼.

Noon—Selling of the steel issues furnished the only active movement of the morning in the stock market. United States Steel yielded to the influence of heavy pressure, and the weakness extended to the shares of other steel companies, especially Republic Steel. The general list held fairly steady. As the time for the meeting of United States Steel directors approached some large blocks of United States Steel were thrown on the market, and the price fell to 53¾. Republic Steel gave way 1⅛ to 19, and the preferred 2⅝ to 78, eclipsing their low figures of yesterday. Colorado Fuel lost 1⅝, and the Bethlehem Steel issues declined fractionally. Railroad stocks lost little ground, although the average level was slightly under yesterday's closing. Bonds were irregular. The tobacco issues were lower on profit-taking sales. Money on call steady at 2½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4½ @ 4¾ per cent. Exchanges $252,589,912; balances $10,625,042.

NEWPORT JUNGLE VISITED.

New Royal Monarch Installed and Supreme Officers of Order of Tigers Make Addresses.

Newport Jungle, No. 7, Fraternal Order of Tigers, had a gala meeting Wednesday evening on the occasion of the visit of Supreme Tiger Justin H. Boyce and Supreme Secretary Creighton W. Skelton. There was a large attendance and considerable important business was transacted.

Timothy J. Murphy was installed as royal monarch and Franklin C. Parsonage, who was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Marshall C. Rogers, was also installed in his new duties. Four applications for membership were received and three candidates were initiated. Supreme Tiger Boyce and Supreme Secretary Skelton made interesting addresses.

Following the business session a collation was served and there was a social session. The entertainment committee consisted of Michael H. Kearney, Hector Renaud and James Dugan.

WILL WITHHOLD A STRIP.

Weenat Shassit Association Sets a Price on Mary Street Property for School Purposes.

The Weenat Shassit Association also held a meeting Wednesday evening, at which the trustees made a report upon the affairs of the Red Men's property on Thames street and their proposed action was approved. Among questions which came up was that of the elemination of the fruit stand in the future, and setting a price on the property on Mary street for school purposes. The price will be communicated to the School Committee, but with it goes a proposition to withhold an alleyway 10 feet wide from Mary street to the rear of the Thames Street property.

The degree team which will go to the state powwow in Providence in December worked the hunters' and warriors' degree on a candidate at the session of Weenat Shassit tribe. There was a large turnout of chiefs and after the meeting one of Potter's famous chowders was served in the dining hall.

DOGS AND HENS.

The Former Causing Havoc Among the Latter in the Lower Part of the City.

If it is not cows it may be horses, or hens and dogs, and dogs seemed to be the cause of complaint this morning. James Cowles reports that some time between 12 and 1, during the midnight hours, two dogs entered his hen-house on Bateman avenue and killed 14 hens.

This dog and hen business is coming to be a habit this season, especially in this district. Einer S. Johnson, gardener at the Cushing estate, reported October 24 that dogs had reached his chickens, and as a result he was minus 36 chickens and 3 pigeons. Captain Cotton has several times lost fowl from his farm near by.

It looks as though the school fund would make a big saving if it employed Dog Constable Hallock at double pay to go out and locate these dogs—and there is a pretty general idea as to what dogs they are. The constable has a place where he could put those dogs, and they would make no further demands on the dog fund.

JAMES R. KEENE'S HEALTH.

Mr. James R. Keene, returned to New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. after an absence of 11 months abroad, seven of which were spent in a hospital. Mr. Keene was looking pale and weak.

"If you had a wound in your side that had not healed, I don't think you would feel much like talking," he told the reporters. "Besides, you know, I was in a hospital for seven months, and am not familiar with what has been goin gon. Racing? Why, I haven't seen a race since before leaving New York, 11 months ago. I was never well enough to go to a race while abroad."

BATTLESHIP FLORIDA NOT COMING HERE.

Newporters who have been expecting to see the big battleship Florida, which is to displace the Connecticut as flag-ship of the Atlantic fleet, will be disappointed, as she will not come to Newport, as was supposed, with the First division. The official orders for the Florida are: Leave navy yard, October 28, for the North river; after review in New York proceed to Boston; Boston to Hampton Roads; to Pensacola, Fla.; to Galveston, Texas; to Kingston, Jamaica; to Guantanamo, Cuba; to New York, to Rockland, Maine, and to Hampton Roads, joining the Atlantic fleet the first of April.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Rev. George W. Quick, D. D., pastor of the Second Baptist Church, observed his birthday anniversary Wednesday. He had not anticipated any formal recognition of the occasion, but when he reached the church for the mid-week service he found a vase containing 50 carnations on the reading desk, placed there by some of his parishioners.

This was not all, for when the service was concluded Deacon William P. Carr presented Dr. Quick with a purse of gold as a birthday gift from the people of the church in token of their appreciation of his work. Dr. Quick, although completely taken by surprise, responded in an appreciative manner, thanking his parishoners for their gift and their thoughtfulness and kindness to him during his pastorate. After the speech-making there was a general gathering of all present to offer congratulations personally.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Orpheus Male Singing Society at its annual meeting Wednesday evening transacted considerable business of importance. Eighteen members were present, two new members were elected and two others were proposed for membership. The society now consists of eight first tenors, eight second tenors, six first basses and five second basses. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Frank P. King.
Vice President—John R. Austin.
Secretary—Joseph Pearson.
Treasurer—Melzah H. Basford.
Librarian—Francis W. King.
Musical Director—Henry S. Hendy.

NOT INTERESTED IN THE BASE BALL SCORE.

The telephone plays funny tricks sometimes. During the excitement of the ball game Wednesday afternoon those who answered the almost constant calls at The News office soon dropped the formality of asking for name or even waiting for the voice, simply taking down the receiver and giving the score quickly, in order not to delay matters. In one instance, when this was done, the caller asked in a pretty sharp tone: "What's that?" "Four to three, favor of New York, 10 innings!" The voice called back: "I don't want any of that nonsense," and then proceeded to give his business order.

LECTURE ON "GODS DIVINE PLAN OF THE AGES."

The International Bible Students' Association has made arrangements for R. E. Streeter, V. D. M., Bible scholar and lecturer, to give a second lecture on "God's Divine Plan of the Ages," illustrated by a chart. The object of these lectures is said to be not to establish any denomination or sect, but to stimulate Christians and others to a study of the Bible. The Association has arranged for similar lectures throughout the country and at all of them seats are free and no collection is taken.

Mr. Streeter claims that when rightly understood the Bible contains sufficient evidence to prove its own inspiration. He says: "In order to appreciate and harmonize the Scriptures, it is necessary for us to observe Heaven's first law of order and apply texts where they belong. If we keep in mind God's purpose in dealing differently with the world of mankind in the different ages or dispensations, we have no difficulty in harmonizing such apparently contradictory doctrines as those of election and free grace. In fact, we can readily see how the Bible is consistent with itself from Genesis to Revelation and proves that God is love."

ROGERS' HARDEST GAME.

Local High School Team Beats the School of Design Eleven, 13-0.

Numerous Injuries to Players, Including a Dislocated Shoulder for Lee.

The Rogers High School football eleven won another victory Wednesday, defeating the team from the Rhode Island School of Design, 13-0. The game was the hardest the local boys have played this season and when it started it looked as if the score would be closer than it was. The visitors ran the ball down the field and seemed bound for a touchdown, going to the 10-yard line before the Rogers boys came to themselves.

There were numerous injuries to the players, but none were due to rough playing. Lee of the Rogers team received the only serious injury, his shoulder being dislocated, and he will be out of the game for some time to come.

The visitors started the game, Corey kicking to Freeman. The first Rogers play was a forward pass, and it went into the visitors' hands. Then they started with a rush. McGeough circled right end for 11 yards and Stanley made 12 around the other end. Another first down and then came a fumble, Gamache taking the ball. Ebbs punted to Martin, and after two downs Rogers turn came. Corey tried to punt, but was blocked Sullivan took the ball, went clear, and ran 55 yards for the first touchdown. M. Jemail missed the goal by a narrow margin.

Corey kicked to Freeman again, Ebbs punted, and the Designers started up the field. They tried the Rogers ends, and with two forward passes and three end runs, made three first downs, being on the Rogers 20-yard line as the whistle blew.

The visitors started the second period with a try for goal from the field. It fell short, and Knox received it. Ebbs punted to the centre of the field, to McGeough. Lee was hurt on the next play. He went through the line and tackled Heyward for a loss of 3 yards. Heyward landed heavily on Lee's shoulder, but Lee pluckily stayed in the game for four more downs, when he was relieved by Freeman.

The visitors punted, and then Rogers made four first downs in succession. Knox went around the end for 11, M. Jemail made 16 on a forward pass, Freeman 10 through the line, and Frank 15 around the end. A fumble gave the ball to the visitors and Stanley punted to M. Jemail. Ebbs returned the punt, and the visitors lost the ball on a forward pass. Time was called.

Ebbs kicked off and the first play, a forward pass, fell into Frank's hands. He broke free, and ran within one yard of the line before he was downed, but the ball was taken back because of interference. The visitors punted and Knox made a brilliant run on the next play, going 26 yards, with no interference, through a crowded field. Gamache made 20 on a forward pass, and M. Jemail tried a drop kick for goal, but failed. The period ended, with Rogers' ball on the visitors' 17-yard line.

Rogers started for another score, with 17 yards to go. Knox gained 3, and then M. Jemail successfully kicked a goal from the field, bringing the score to 8-0.

Ebbs kicked, and on Design's first play a forward pass went wrong, and Rogers secured the ball. A forward pass to M. Jemail netted 9½, and Hoar made 6, which took the ball to the 11-yard line. Here the visitors held and

SHIBE PARK PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—The Athletics, champions of the American league, today won the premier honor of the world's base ball by defeating the New York Giants, champions of the National League, by the overwhelming score of 13 to 2.

The American League champions hit the ball to all corners of the field, it not seeming to make any difference who the New York manager sent to the box. It was the hardest hitting game seen at Shibe park for many a day, Murphy having a batting average of 1000 in his four trips to the plate.

Both teams played ragged ball at times, but the Athletics were always masters of the situation, and left no doubt as to their superiority.

Ames, Wiltse and Marquard were batted fiercely, while Bender pitched one of the most masterful games of his career. He let the Giants down with four hits, one of which was a double in the first inning, and seemed to have them at his mercy at all times.

After the game there was a wild demonstration of enthusiasm by the fans thousands of them swarming on the playing field and shouting for the winners of the world's series.

First inning, first half—Devore rolled a grounder to Bender and was out at first, after having two strikes called on him. Doyle drove the ball over the temporary fence in right field for two bases. It was the first ball pitched to him. The ball almost went out of the grounds. Snodgrass lifted a high one which Lord took care of. It was two out, with Doyle on second and Murray at the bat. Doyle scored on Murphy's muff of Murray's fly. Murray was caught off first a moment later by a beautiful throw, Bender to Davis.

One run, one hit, one error.

First inning, second half—Lord was an easy out, Doyle to Merkle. The first three balls Ames pitched were wild and the next four were straight over the plate, one of which Lord fouled. Oldring, who made a home run off Marquard yesterday, struck out. Collins also struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second inning, first half—Merkle lifted a high one, which Oldring captured after a long run. Barry muffed Herzog's line drive and the runner was safe. Herzog stole second, Thomas's throw being a trifle high. Barry was slightly spiked by the runner. It was purely accidental. The game was delayd a few minutes while a doctor bandaged Barry's right ankle. Fletcher struck out and Chief Meyers was given a loud "hand" when he came to the plate. It was Indian against Indian. Meyers drove a hard grounder over second base, but Collins made a beautiful pick-up and caught the runner at first.

No runs, no hits, one error.

Second inning, second half—Baker lifted a high fly to Devore and was an easy out. Murphy hit one too hot for Doyle to handle and was safe at first. It was a beautiful hit. Davis rolled an easy grounder to Ames and retired at first. Barry struck out on three pitched balls, fouling one of them.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third inning, first half—Ames singles to left. Devore forced Ames at second, Bender to Barry. Captain Doyle was cheered when he came to the plate. Doyle lifted a foul fly to Baker. Devore was an easy out, stealing, Thomas to Collins.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third inning, second half—Thomas was given his base on balls. Bender was out, Fletcher to Merkle, Thomas taking second. Lord doubled over the temporary fence in right field, scoring Thomas. The stands shook with the cheers of the crowd. Meyers and Ames held a conference when Oldring came to the plate. Lord went to third on Oldring's out. Fletcher to Merkle. Collins lifted a fly to Devore.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Fourth inning, first half—Snodgrass lifted a high fly to Oldring and was out. Murray went out by the same route, to Murphy in right. Merkle drove a grounder over second which Collins stopped on a phenomenal play and retired the runner at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth inning, second half—Baker drove a beautiful single to centre and the stands began to tremble with the stamping of feet. Baker went to third on Murphy's single to centre. It was Murphy's second hit of the game. There were two on bases, with no out The din was something terrific. Murray deliberately allowed Davis's long foul fly to drop safe, in order that Baker might not score. Baker was safe at home on Davis's hit to Doyle, the Athletic third baseman making a beautiful slide to the plate. With none out, and Murphy on second and Davis on first, Barry stepped to the plate. Barry's first attempt was a trial at a bunt, but he fouled the ball back of the plate. His next attempt was a beautiful bunt, and Ames in trying to field the ball to Merkle hit Barry on top of the head, Murphy and Davis scoring. Barry came all the way home on Murray's wild return of the ball to second base in an attempt to catch Barry. Thomas was the first man out in the inning, fanning. Bender hit a ball over second base which Doyle stopped by a beautiful run and threw the ball to Merkle, who muffed it. As Bender had stopped running Merkle was not given an error, and Bender was out. It would have been an almost sure single for the Indian if he had run out the hit. Lord drove a long fly to left centre, which Devore took after a great run. Devore's catch was as brilliant a piece of fielding as had been seen during the world's series.

Four runs, two hits, two errors.

Fifth inning, first half—Herzog fanned on three pitched balls, the last almost striking the batsman. Fletcher was an easy out on a puny grounder, Bender to Davis. Meyers drove a beautiful liner through the pitcher's feet for a single. Crandall went in to bat for Ames. Crandall was walked by Bender, but not intentionally. Devore struck out. He had three balls and two strikes, when called out by Connolly.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth inning, second half—Wiltse went into the box for the Giants. Oldring lifted a fly to Devore and sat down. Collins bunted, but Wiltse fielded the ball to first ahead of the fleet second baseman. Baker was out at first Merkle, unassisted.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth inning, first half—Captain Doyle was retired on a foul fly to Baker, which the latter took in by a long run and sensational catch. Snodgrass drove a liner to left centre, which Oldring took "off his shoe strings" after a long run. Murray was given his base on balls, the second for the chief during the game. Murray was forced at second on Baker's throw of Merkle's grounder, Collins securing the put-out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth inning, second half—Murphy drove a long fly to centre field which Snodgrass misjudged, and it went for a two-base hit. Davis advanced Murphy to third on his out, Doyle to Merkle. It was not an intentional sacrifice. Murphy scored on Barry's sacrifice fly to Devore. Thomas struck out on three pitched balls.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Seventh inning, first half—Herzog reached first on Barry's fumble of his easy grounder. Davis captured Fletcher's foul fly after along run. Chief Meyers again faced Bender. Bender struck out his dusky rival Wiltse also struck out.

No runs, no hits, one error.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Athletics seemed to have a surely commanding lead for the world's championship, not a person left the seats. Bender had been pitching magnificent ball, not a semblance of a run having been scored on him except in the first inning.

Seventh inning, second half—Bender lifted a little fly to Doyle. Lord made an infield single, for which Fletcher

ASSASSINATED BY HIS OWN TROOPS.

General Tchang, Commanding Imperials, Killed.

City of Canton Reported as Having Fallen Into Hands of Revolutionists.

SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 26.—A Chinese newspaper in an extra edition announces that the minister of war, General Yin Tchang, commanding the imperial forces, has been assassinated by his own troops.

The paper also states that Canton has been seized by the revolutionists. Great bloodshed is reported there.

The rebels are throwing up entrenchments at Kiu Kiang. The work is being conducted in an orderly manner.

Wu Hu, Nanking and Soo Chow expect the revolutionists will take over their local governments soon.

Manchu officials, high and low, some wearing disguises, are coming into Shanghai from every quarter. Native newspapers, which are widely circulated south of the Yang tse Kiang, announce positively that the emperor and his family are prepared to start for Mukden, Manchuria, where protection has been guaranteed them by the Japanese. Later it is stated the imperial members will be conducted to the United States. The widespread circulation of such statements as the above, without interference from the authorities, is considered significant, in view of the restraint to which the press has been subjected hertofore.

A native paper publishes a wireless from Hankow, timed 2 o'clock this afternoon, stating that all was quiet there.

IMPERIAL COMMANDER KILLED.

PEKIN, Oct. 26.—The Chinese newspapers report that the troops at Cheng Tu, the capital of Sze Chuen province, have mutinied and killed General Chao Erh-Feng, commander of the imperial forces, and joined the rebels who now hold the capital.

The legations have received no news officially from Sze Chuen province for the past ten days. They ordinarily discredit the reports published in the Chinese papers, but consider the statement that Cheng Tu has fallen and the imperial commander been assassinated as not improbable.

The American legation is making further inquiries.

The American legation is asking that more warships be sent to Chinese waters, as the present fleet is not enough to cover the ports.

An official telegram states that General Yin Tchang telegraphed the government from Siaokan yesterday that the imperial troops had advanced to Shokou and he was following them. The general added that the army had engaged in a number of skirmishes with the rebels, but no battle would take place until the imperial army was fully consolidated in its position.

RESPONSIBLE FOR REBELLION.

PEKIN, Oct. 26.—Sheng Hsuan Huai, minister of posts and communications, has been dismissed from office in accordance with the demand of the National Assembly made upon the government yesterday. An imperial edict issued today cashiered him forever, on the ground that he was mainly responsible for the plan to nationalize the Chinese railroads, in consequence of which the present rebellion arose. The edict explains that the government's project was intended to benefit the people, but Sheng Hsuan Huai failed to carry it out successfully and he transgressed the law while endeavoring to force the railroad scheme.

The government has thus chosen to sacrifice the man considered by foreigners as the strongest member of the cabinet, in order to avoid an open rupture with the Assembly. Sheng negotiated the loans for the nationalization of the railroad and opposed the provincial policy which would localize their construction and control. The rebellious elements in the province of Sze Chuen, Hu Peh and Hu Nan formulated charges against the minister and the subject was taken up by the National Assembly yesterday. The advocates of the charges stated that they were not opposed to foreign loans but rather to the methods employed by Sheng and the results, which amounted to a robbery of the people, from whom the railways under con-

The visitors punted, but as the ball di not go the required distance, it was taken back and given to Rogers. Frank and Knox both tried the line, but could not break through. Then M. Jemail took a criss-cross from Frank, found a hole, and went through for the last score, as he failed in the try for goal. Ebbs kicked, but before the two teams could line up the final whistle blew, with the score 13-0.

The local team seemed to have taken a "mid-season slump". Fumbles were frequent and the boys lacked their usual vim. M. Jemail appeared to be as well suited to the end as the the back field. Hoar played his usual steady game and Knox showed that he had not lost the art of dodging. Lee, Frank and Freeman made good gains, and all three tackled well. The line was weak at times. Cottrell went out of the game on account of an injury, for the first time since he has played with Rogers.

McGeough was the visitor's best man. He was a sure tackler and made long gains around the ends. Heywood played well at full back, and the ends were good in running down under punts and breaking up the Rogers interference.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Mrs. John Wesley Tallman, who has been spending several months with her son, Mr. Albertice Tallman of Wakefield, is on her way home to this town, having stopped in Providence for a visit.

Captain John M. Brownell was given a surprise party, arranged by his wife, in honor of his birthday. About 20 were entertained at dinner and Mrs. Brownell presented him with a handsome leather covered chair.

Mrs. Gertrude Vincent, with her son who has been guest for the past month of her sister, Mrs. Augustus Allen, at "Allendale Farm," has gone to Newport to visit her sister, Mrs. Tuttle.

The Grange Whist Club has resumed its meetings and held the first of the series Tuesday evening at Fair hall. Mrs. Emerson A. Bishop took the women's prize and Mr. George I. Anthony the men's.

Miss Kate L. Durfee has been guest since Sunday of Mrs. Horace Remington of Providence.

Mr. Harrington, who has moved into the Burbidge cottage on the East Main road, is making extensive additions to the building.

Mrs. William F. Brayton and Mrs. Frederick Lawton and her daughter were guests of Mrs. Francis P. Conway Wednesday.

There was a good attendance at St Mary's guild Wednesday afternoon and a good supper. Considering the bad weather by which the harvest supper of the guild was handicapped, the financial results were gratifying.

Mrs. Sarah King Birckhead has closed her summer home, "Eastnor," and gone to New York for the winter.

Mr. Benjamin McNaughton of Providence is visiting his uncle, Mr. Abram Stratton.

Conductor Vargas of the Bay State Street Railway, who was married a few weeks ago, has gone to housekeeping in Mr. Albert Anthony's house, the other tenants being Mr. and Mrs. George Albro.

Mr. Ivony P. Lowe is making improvements to his cottage on Glen street.

Mrs. Mary Hudner of Fall River is here for a month's visit to her niece, Mrs. James McCann.

A FULL REPORT.

[Lippincott's.]

One day an eight-year-old girl, who had been taught to report her misdeeds promptly, sought her mother with an aspect of grief denoting great penitence.

"I broke a brick in the fireplace," the youngster explained, between sobs.

"Well, that isn't beyond remedy," smiled the parent, "but how on earth, child, did you do it?"

"I was pounding it with father's watch."

LABOR LOSES HEAD OF TICKET.

Bay State Ballot Commission Throws Off Candidate for Governor.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—The name of Augustus Seaver of Boston, candidate for governor on a Labor ticket, was thrown off the official ballot today by the Ballot Law Commission, and District Attorney Pelletier at once began an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the work in obtaining 1,833 names to the nomination papers, of which nearly 1,500 were found to be fictitious.

The hearing on the Seaver papers began yesterday on the petition of the Democratic State committee. Counsel produced a number of witnesses who denied ever signing the nomination papers.

George M. Young a justice of the peace, admitted today that he did not take the oath of several persons whose names appeared on the paper, although his signature as a justice also appeared.

Just before the opening of the session counsel for Mr. Seaver offered to withdraw his client's name as a candidate for governor if the opposition would withdraw criminal proceedings. Chairman McDonald of the Democratic state committee refused to comply with the request.

BENEFICIAL TO RETAIL TRADE.

Improvement in Textile Business in New England Continues.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—The improvement in the textile business in New England, which became noticeable last month, continues, especially in the woolen goods industry. Today President William W. Wood of the American Woolen Company, which operates more than 30 plants in New England and New York state, announced that the company is now operating between 70 and 75 per cent of its machinery, the largest proportion so far this year. Many of the large mills have received orders to keep the machinery running well into 1912. These plants include the Ayer Mills, Lawrence; Fulton Mills, Fulton, N. Y.; Brown Mills, Dover, Maine; Weybosset Mills, Providence; Wood Mills, Lawrence, and Cunegan Mills, Old Town, Maine.

The improved condition of the woolen industry will naturally have a beneficial effect on general retail business in the places named and other mill towns. The American Woolen Company employs about 30,000 persons, many of whom have been working on short time during the depression of 1910-11.

GROVER CLEVELAND SCHOOL.

New Institution at Washington Named For Deceased President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Grover Cleveland School is the name selected by the commissioners of the District of Columbia for the latest educational institution of Washington. This honor of the memory of the last Democratic President was bestowed on the recommendation of the board of education, which stated that the name of every deceased President of the United States except President Cleveland, had been used in naming the schools of the Capital. The building, the home of one of the district grammar schools, and one of the largest built in recent years, cost $92,600.

SWEETS FOR THE SWEET.

Says the proverb, but if you are not feeling extremely amiable, if, as Mr. Richard Swiveller moans, "The milk of human kindness has turned a trifle cheesy" a box of Vantine's Oriental confections at The Kazanjian Company's store will correct the acidity. If it is a bad job we have candied ginger to tone up the temper and also pistachio nuts from Bucharest which will keep the mouth occupied.

PICTURE FRAMING

Is a specialty at Wiseman's Art Store. It is a known fact that this store has the largest line of mouldings that are up-to-date to be found in this city or it may be added in much larger cities. People delight in having their "framing" done here because they realize that the frames are joined with the greatest possible care. 112 Bellevue ave.

A GOOD DRUG STORE TO TRADE AT.

Byrne's Drug Store as a good place and enjoys the patronage of very particular people in every section. Why shouldn't it? Our stock is complete. The qualities are highest and the prices absolutely the lowest consistent with the quality sold. 128 Broadway.

NEW HONEY.

Garretison & Co. are now showing in their window a new lot of pure honey in one pound screw top jars, which is the best we have ever seen. Either strained or with the comb, at 25c. per jar. Try some with your cakes tomorrow.

SMART CLOTHS

For the tailor suit and the ulster coat. Cloths that will be desirable for suits tailored to order as they consist of many handsome effects in yarn fabrics that have not fallen into the hands of the manufacturers of ready to wear clothing. Drop in and make your selection from the samples here displayed—and the making of the same into a pleasing garment will be a delight to you. Fred Landholm, The Fashionable Tailor, 3 Broadway.

THE HEAVIEST LOAD

Does not always mean the best coal. You may have noticed that a scuttle of one kind of coal would last all day, while a scuttle of another kind would be gone before supper time. In buying "Jeddo Coal" you procure coal which gives the maximum of heat with the minimum of waste. "Jeddo Coal" is sold by The Planiger & Manchester Co. Phone 144.

A FEAST IS NEVER

Complete without its appropriate accompaniment of well-selected fruit. Any small boy can tell you that the whole family dote on well ripened fruit. The Chas. Tisdall Co. has a record of pleasing its trade in the matter of fruits as it has in the other branches of its business. Fruit bought here is the finest and a price that is as low as anywhere else. Phones 378 and 379.

FALL AND WINTER

Shoes, slippers, etc. Never has the store of The T. Mumford Seabury Co presented a more extensive or imposing array of footwear than this season. A greater effort has been made this season than ever before to present an exclusiveness of style in the shoes here displayed and it is a remark frequently heard that the shoes and slippers for the women folks—are the best ever.

SHOES NEED CARE

We mean by that, that a new pair of shoes will give just so much wear—of course it depends on the wearing qualities how long it will last—but then comes the time to have them repaired. The Boston Shoe Repairing Co., 110 Broadway does this work and as cheap as you can have it done elsewhere in the city. This is a busy shoe repairing shop in every sense of the word.

DON'T FORGET THE HORSE

The chill in the weather has a meaning all its own. You want a new warm blanket Mr. Horseowner and you want it right away. You can find a variety of weights and colors in the blanket line at Henry Diesel & Son's and can get a very good one or a less expensive one. All prices and all kinds off blankets here.

DON'T THIS WEATHER

Remind you of the approach of the cold blasts of later on? Better have the heating system installed—better do it while the thought is on your mind. Phillip F. Conroy, 191 Thames street.

"THAT 35 CENT COFFEE

Is certainly the best coffee I ever had on my table", said a well known man the other morning just after breakfast. My wife gets it A. R. O'Hanley's Grocery Store and several of her friends have recently purchased some of this coffee there—It's a hard coffee to beat for the price and I've had a good many kinds to try in my time. 642 Thames St.

LADIES, ATTENTION:

Marchant tailored clothes command admiration from everyone. Good fit and workmanship with exclusive fabrics give the wearer a distinct advantage over the person who persists in buying ready-made suits, and the ultimate cost is no greater. E. Boudreau & Son, Sherman Bldg., 140-2 Thames street, upstairs, 2d floor.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE

There is between the taste of a good fresh fish and that of the other kind. Many a housewife has experienced the disappointment of the latter kind. Our fish comes in twice each day to the store fresh from the traps. You will note the difference in our fish—others have done so. The quality is there, and the price right too. The Broadway Cash Fish Market, 60 Broadway.

THERE WAS A FIRE

The other day—it was an awning on a business man's store. It hadn't been over but a few months and he was sorry to lose the awning because it was an attractive one—made by Wilmarth & Co. He didn't have to wait long however, for a duplicate order was given to this busy awning concern and today he has a brand new awning made right here in Newport by Wilmarth & Co. of 147 Bellevue Ave.

SHORTER DAYS

And no lantern about the place and I'm going down town to buy one tomorrow morning. Well, if such is the case that you are really going to invest in a lantern don't forget to inspect the lanterns at S. W. Gorgeshall's Hardware Store. "Rayo Lanterns" 50c to $2.00. 201 Thames St.

RIVALING THE SUN

In fire and brilliancy is the collection of diamonds in our show cases. Come and enjoy its dazzling beauty. There are rings, diamond studded bracelets and watches, sunbursts and many other articles of utility and adornment. There are gems of every size and of every price. Herrmann's, The Store of True Value.

THINGS THAT COUNT.

There are many interesting and useful mechanical inventions. This applies to the modern equipped woodworking machinery at Robert W. Curry's, 31-41 Chapel St. The equipping of a plant with the best of machinery has but one motive in view—to be able to turn out the best of work. This applies to panel work, which is a feature of this concern. You can buy lumber, shingles, lath, etc., here also.

YOUR NEIGHBOR

Buys cake and pastry where she thinks she gets the best. Tell her to try S. Koschny, The Vienna Confectioner of 230-32 Thames St. and she will probably be as pleased as you were when you made your first purchase of cake and pastry at this store. Candies and ice cream for every occasion.

WE'RE BRIMFUL OF CONFIDENCE

In our ability to gratify the most exacting demands for men's fall and winter suits and overcoats. The great variety of styles, fabrics, patterns and colorings we are showing reduces to a minimum the time required to make a satisfactory selection. Fall hats and furnishings. The Knox-Hat at $3.00. Bill Goodman's, "Tog Shop."

"I would rather buy in Herrmann's than in either New York or Boston. I can get as pretty things at as reasonable a price and have better attention." This is what a lady said a few days ago about Herrmann's.

IT PAYS TO BUY THE BEST

Some people seem to think it's economy to buy the cheapest. If the price is low they are satisfied. That isn't the way to get the most out of your money—in buying meats. The best yields the most satisfaction for each penny invested in it. Try this cut and you'll agree it's so. You can buy the best of meats at F. H. Congeshall's Market.

IN MAKING A PRESENT

Of a watch to anyone, a man who could give you advice that would be to your interest is Wm. E. Glazier, 96 Spring St. He handles the South Bend, Hamilton and other good makes of watches and being an expert watchmaker can advance you valuable information about watches.

IT IS TO YOUR INTEREST

To know that when you send your laundry to the Bellevue Laundry that it will be cared for by hands that are careful—this is not the slam, bang kind of a laundry but the work moves along smoothly here when it is started in its first stages and when finished the work is a credit to the laundry and satisfies the individual who receives it fresh and clean later on in the week. Phone 393.

THE PIANOS

that have been going merrily out of this store the past few weeks to homes of people in this community are genuine bargains. These pianos received slight use the past summer, having been rented to "summer people"—all were new this spring. In looking for a bargain in a piano the present is the best opportunity of the year, so do not miss it. Visit Barney's Music Store and see the same.

WHAT A GOOD CIGAR IS

To a man, a box of good candy is to a woman. Therefore, when the man who is wise wishes to enjoy a good quiet smoke he brings to his wife or sweetheart a box of chocolates or bonbons and he is "in right" for the rest of the day. We might add, he generally gets them here. Utopian Chocolates 60c lb. Daggett's Chocolates 50c box and up. Nathan David, 2 Broadway, Cor. Farewell.

PUFFING "EL EDS" CIGARS

Isn't necessary. They do their own puffing every time they are smoked. There is a flavor and an aroma to them that tells the smoker at once they are high grade even if they are low priced. Risk five cents and procure an "El Edo" Cigar at W. T. Rutherford's. 254 Thames St. Everybody likes them. 6 for 25c.

LONG EVENINGS

Give more time for close work. Right Glasses give more comfort and less fatigue. The important question of procuring glasses for the comfort and rest of your eyes is answered when an examination is made at the up-to-date optical parlors of F. W. LITTLE GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP.

Sunday Schools in Rhode Island Barely Holding Their Own.

State Association Concludes Session at All Saints' Memorial Church, Providence.

The annual convention of the Rhode Island State Sunday School Association concluded its sessions Wednesday evening at All Saints' Memorial Church, Providence. Two interesting addresses were features of the morning session. One was by Frank L. Brown of New York, an official of the World's Sunday School Association. The other was by Randall J. Condon, superintendent of the Providence public schools, whose topic was "The Place of the Sunday School in Education."

Reports from many of the officers and committees were received. Miss Chrissie Davis, the new field worker, told of her labors during the past year, including visits to 679 families representing 2,406 individuals; the forming of six new house departments, with 121 members, and four cradle rolls, with 45 members. She declared that a house-to-house canvass in the sections gone over had shown that only about 2 per cent of the men between the ages of 18 and 45 were members of the Sunday Schools; only 60 per cent of children between 5 and 18 years were members of the Sunday Schools, and out of 2,264 people interviewed who had church inclinations, only 440 were church members.

The report of General Secretary W. B. Wilson was of unusual interest, calling attention to the fact that the year just closed was a strenuous one for all in Rhode Island interested in Christian work. Under the heading of statistics, the report deals fully with the present conditions of the work in the state. It says: "Instead of gathering the complete statistics of our state every year, we seek to correct our mailing list annually and to gather complete statistics of the schools every three years, in the year of the international convention.

"During the three years 1908-1911 we have lost nine schools and gained in Sunday School membership only 279, and gained in average attendance only 150. We have gained 24 home departments and 717 home department members; we have gained 33 cradle rolls and 1,057 cradle roll members, thus making a gain of 2,053 Sunday School members in all departments.

"There are 38 more junior departments than there were three years ago, and a gain of 16 teachers' meetings a loss of 17 teacher training classes and a loss of 695 scholars joining the church. The comparative statistical report is as follows:

"Number of Sunday Schools in 1908 was 345, in 1911, 335, a loss of 10; number of Sunday Schools open all the year in 1908, 295, in 1911, 283, a loss of 11; number of home departments in 1908, 122, in 1911, 146, a gain of 24; cradle roll in 1908, was 131 and in 1911, 164, a gain of 33; teachers' meetings in 1905 was 36, in 1911, 52, a gain of 16; teacher training classes in 1908, 43 and in 1911, was 26, a loss of 17; Decision day in 1908 was 83, in 1911, 51, a loss of 32; total membership in 1908 was [illegible], and in 1911 it was 51,179, a gain of 29; the average attendance in 1905 was 30,064, and in 1911 it was 30,244, a gain of 180; home department membership in 1908 was 4,129, and in 1911 it was 4,846, a gain of 717; cradle roll membership in 1908 was 3,156, and in 1911 it was 4,213, a gain of 1,057; the grand total of membership in 1908 was [illegible], and in 1911 it was 60,288, a gain of 2,053; number who joined the church in 1908 was 1,818, as against 1123 in 1911, a loss of 695; in junior department in 1908 was 66, and in 1911 it was 103, a gain of 38.

"From this report it will be seen that the Sunday Schools in Rhode Island are barely holding their own, and that there is practically no gain in membership during the three years, while the country at large shows a gain in Sunday School membership of 1,431,005."

At the evening session officers were elected as follows:

President—Rev. W. B. Barr, Central Falls.

First Vice President—Isaac B. Burgess, Providence.

Second Vice President—Rev. Hugh R. Carpenter, Providence.

Recording Secretary—Frederick B. Church, Barrington.

Treasurer—George W. Smith, Providence.

Executive Committee—E. P. Metcalf, Rev. Lester Bradner, Charles M. Calder, James E. Coffin, Mark L. Dunning, George W. Annison, A. B. McCrillis, W. O. Talcott, Rev. J. E. Aylsworth, William H. Waite and T. W. Waterman.

An address by Rev. A. K. DeBlois, D. D. of Boston, on "The Youth and the Book," brought the sessions to an end.

MEN AS TREES WALKING.

[Lippincott's.]

A company of motion-picture actors and actresses gave a performance of "Chantecler" on the grounds adjoining the suburban studio of a film-manufacturing company. A little later one of the actors, out for a walk, came upon a man seated by the roadside and weeping bitterly.

"What's the matter?" inquired the sympathetic player.

"I'm one of the patients at the sanitarium over yonder," explained the despairing one. "Yesterday the doc said I was well—boo-hoo—and that I could leave in a day or two. And what do you suppose I saw this morning? Roosters and hens six feet high and talkin' just like humans! If I get away from that sanitarium in 10 years, I'll be doing mighty well."

PERSONALS.

—It is announced that Andrew Carnegie has given $120,000 for the establishment of a Norwegian hero fund.

—A Pekin despatch to the London Times says an imperial rescript confirms the appointment of Francis Arthur Aglen as deputy inspector general of the imperial maritime customs, China, as the successor of Sir Robert Hart.

—Walter Freeman of Barre, Vt., who although 36 years old was but three and one half feet tall, is dead of acute indigestion. Freeman weighed 59 pounds and is said to have been the smallest man in the state. He had received many alluring offers to appear on the stage as a Lilliputian, but preferred to remain at home.

—Archduke Ferdinand Charles, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, who recently renounced his rank and all privileges as a member of the imperial family, has married in Switzerland the daughter of Hofrat Czuber, a professor of engineering. The archduke wished to renounce his rank to marry this young woman, but the emperor refused his permission. The marriage, however, is now with His Majesty's consent and he has granted his nephew an annuity of 40,000 crowns. The archduke has assumed the surname of Burg and will reside in Switzerland.

TAKE ALL SIX MATCHES.

Mianetuck Club Women Win in Tennis Tournament Against Bristol Players.

The women of the Excelsior Tennis Club of Bristol played a return game in this city Wednesday with those of the Mianetuck Club at the courts on Greenough place. The local players won six matches, 12 sets to 2.

Mrs. Lorillard Spencer beat Miss Madeline Reynolds, 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Julia Brown beat Miss Helen Church, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Anita Barrett beat Miss Madeline B. Reynolds, 6-1, 6-1.

After luncheon in the clubhouse the order was reversed.

Miss Brown beat Miss Reynolds, 7-5, 8-6.

Miss Barrett beat Miss Church, 3-6; 7-5; 6-1.

In this match Miss Church led 2-0 in the second set, after winning the first, but was outlasted. The three Newporters and the two Bristol girls all played better than they did in the previous matches at Bristol.

In the extra sets, "for fun," several of the women averaged eight sets apiece, which was more than some had ever played before.

Finally, in the doubles, Miss Brown and Miss Barrett beat the best Bristol combination, Miss Madeline Reynolds and Miss Helen Church, 1-6, 6-3, 6-0.

The woman champion of the club, Miss Marian Dawling was out of town, but the Excelsior club could furnish few better players in mid-summer.

A good deal of work had been done on the courts which made them as good as at any time this summer, in spite of the rain. Clay to re-surface has been dumped east of the courts, which makes chasing the ball a little like climbing the Alps, so the backstop was moved in.

Much hard work for the meet was done by Miss Mary Leonard, resulting in a very successful event.

VALUE OF FRUIT AS FOOD.

[Chicago Tribune.]

In these days of impure drinking water, water famines and filtered water it is well to know that one of the great advantages of fruit is that it offers us pure water, for which we do [illegible] of nearly 50 per cent in berries and 92 per cent in watermelons.

Oranges and lemons are not only valuable by reason of their potash salts, but especially for their citric acid. A case of paralysis of the entire right side is reported, where the juice of oranges, adopted as a regular diet, with chicken broth, appeared to do much good.

As an aid to digestion—a really material aid—the pineapple stands alone among the fruit. Its vegetable pepsin neutralizes—or, perhaps, rather digests—albuminous substances in the stomach. Fresh pineapple—or, better still, the fresh juice of one—placed in direct contact with eggs or gelatine or milk, will prove the fact conclusively by producing a better tasting dish. In cases of catarrhal ailments of the throat and in its downward connection the alimentary canal or tract pineapple cannot be overestimated, and it acts with equal force in malarial affections.

As for the date and the banana, they contain sufficient nutriment to sustain life. The salts and organic acids in the apple tend to improve the quality of the blood.

THE CONQUEROR.

[Emil Carl Aurin.]

It's easy to laugh when the skies are blue
And the sun is shining bright;
Yes, easy to laugh when your friends are true
And there's happiness in sight;
But when hope has fled and the skies are gray,
And the friends of the past have turned away,
Ah, then indeed, it's a hero's feat
To conjure a smile in the face of defeat.

It's easy to laugh when the storm is o'er
And your ship is safe in port;
Yes, easy to laugh when you're on the shore
Secure from the tempest's sport;
But when wild waves wash o'er the storm-swept deck
And your gallant ship is a battered wreck,
Ah, that is the time when it's well worth while
To look in the face of defeat with a smile.

It's easy to laugh when the battle's fought
And you know that the victory's won;
Yes easy to laugh when the prize you sought
Is yours when the race is run;
But here's to the man who can laugh when the blast
Of adversity blows, he will conquer at last,
For the hardest man in the world to beat
Is the man who can laugh in the face of defeat.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE

THE COMPLAINT OF ITALY.

Turkey has a good deal of which to complain, but apart from appeals to the nations of Europe to pull Italy off we hear nothing from her. Italy has nothing of which to complain, and therefore is complaining. The point is that Turkey is trying her patience; Turkey is too slow. But Turkey isn't doing a thing to her; what's the matter with Italy?

We gather from rather meagre despatches that Italy thinks it is more than time for Turkey to hoist the white flag, or throw up the sponge, or yell for mercy, or indicate in some other way that she is prepared to give up everything which Italy demands as the price of peace. Of course Turkey has lost Tripoli, for Italy already has that. It was understood that the war was undertaken for the sake of taking Tripoli and, that having been accomplished, we should suppose Italy would call off her warships, set up her own government in Tripoli and go on with her business. What more is there to fight about?

The costs. It is implied in some despatches that Italy expects Turkey to go down on her knees and beg the privilege of having the bill of expenses sent to her. It has put Italy to some expense to occupy Tripoli. Of course she has secured Tripoli, and if that is what she desired it might be supposed that she would find it a compensation for her expenditures, but in modern warfare there is a considerable element of financial speculation. Italy has not only deprived Turkey of her African province, but she expects to be paid for the expense of the act and is impatient because Turkey has not yet asked to have the bill made up for her to settle.

Bismarck established the fashion of indemnities. It was not entirely original with him, but he applied the principle of a casual extortion as if it were an established principle of international law that the nation which is beaten shall pay the conqueror for the expense of beating her. This is a temptation to powerful nations, and it deters weaker from defending their rights lest they shall lose their property also. The indemnity encourages the bullying nations and adds to the difficulties of the small and pacific countries in defending themselves.

CITY FARMS INSTEAD OF JAILS.

Not only are the authorities of many states adopting in some form and to some extent the plan of giving prisoners more liberty and providing for them more open-air employment, but some cities are following the same idea in regard to jails. They are substituting for these places of confinement farms in the open country, where prisoners can be employed out of doors, with great improvement to their health, while they are the wards of the city because of misdemeanors committed against the law. Out in Tacoma recently the new administration favored strongly the purchase of a farm to be cultivated by the occupants of the jail instead of the erection of a new prison or an addition to the old one, believing this would be more economical and much more desirable. The matter was brought up by the need of doing something for the accommodation of the increasing number of prisoners in the jail, that building being inadequate to hold all who are sent to it for confinement, and the new government advised a city farm instead of a new or a larger jail.

In support of the idea it was argued that a farm would be less expensive as regards its initial cost and also in point of maintenance, as the prisoners would do practically all the work. Further, it was asserted that it would be much better for the prisoners to be employed in the open air on the farm than maintained in idleness and close confinement in the jail. To the objection that it would not be safe to give the prisoners such liberty as would be necessary under the farm system, it was answered that the plan is working admirably in other places and there was no reason to believe the men in the Tacoma jail were different from those elsewhere or less to be relied upon when placed upon their honor. This Tacoma incident is another indication of the change in the attitude of the public toward prisoners and the modern method of treating them which is rapidly gaining ground all over the country.

EMPLOYES' INDEMNITY.

Some one with an aptitude and a taste for figures has estimated that the cost of providing complete indemnity against loss of pay by employes from sickness, death, accident or other cause would probably reach an amount equal to 25 per cent of the average daily wage. This is a large proportion and would mean an expense which would seem to make almost prohibitive any attempt to provide such insurance. The man who made the computation, however, does not so regard the situation. On the contrary he declares that the very magnitude of the figures ought to be an incentive to the undertaking, because they show how vast is the waste incident to the present social and industrial conditions, and consequently how great would be the saving if some plan were put into operation for the prevention of this great loss. He believes that the simple fact that such a waste now exists ought and will sooner or later awaken the people to a realization that something must be done to stop it, and that when that step is taken it would be wise and possible to make a complete job and settle the matter once for all.

The argument of this writer is not without force, though it may be that he is advising more than it is advisable to do at one time. It is certainly true that it is time something more definite, adequate and fair was done to make the conditions under which the workingman performs his task more endurable and safer. The subject is an important one and is being widely recognized as such, so that there is hope that the problem will be dealt with soon on a scale more commensurate with its merits and better calculated to result in permanent benefit to the working people. All over the country some progress is being made in this direction, but what has been done thus far is not of such a character as to settle permanently the issues involved. That is what is needed or the problem will continue to confront the public and the employers, instead of being eliminated by adequate action for the amelioration of the condition of the workingman in this connection.

RELIGION AND LABOR.

Near Chicago there is a church which has been paying its pastor $120 a month. That is not a princely income but it is more than many clergymen receive. However, the minister cannot be blamed for seeking to supplement his income, and he took a job as an expressman at a wage of $18 a week. The church objected to this on the ground that it was undignified for a minister to put on overalls and do manual labor. Therefore he has resigned.

At a time when all the churches are trying to establish more amicable relations with the working people, this action is at least unfortunate. It affects only a single congregation, but the fact that one church objects to its minister performing manual labor is not calculated to promote the efforts of other congregations to be upon more intimate terms with the working classes. It is only just, however, to observe that these classes are already largely represented in the churches, but if it is desired that the relations between the churches and the wage earners should be closer than they are manual labor would better not be treated as too undignified for a preacher of the gospel.

Most pastors have quite enough work in their churches without engaging in anything else. If a congregation can do it, and needs all the time of a minister, it ought to pay him enough to live on decently. Yet there are plenty of ministers in the country whose salaries are small, and who have fewer demands on their time than pastors of city churches, who partially support themselves by working farms and are all the better for this common interest between them and their parishioners.

A religion founded by the Carpenter, whose earliest adherents were fishermen and whose most distinguished apostle was a tent maker certainly cannot be hurt by combining the functions of the ministry with manual labor. It is a sound principle of the highest authority that they who live of the gospel should live by the gospel, but St. Paul worked at his trade in order that he might preach without being a financial charge to anybody. Manual labor did not impress him as undignified.

The announcement that the Chinese government has withdrawn its request for permission to postpone payment to the United States of the current instalment of the Boxer indemnity is creating considerable speculation in Washington. This action is regarded as indicating that China has succeeded in securing a secret loan, as it is not believed that any arrangement could have been effected with the revolutionists for the re-establishment of order. The obtaining of a loan from a secret source would be regarded as a matter of deep concern to all powers interested in China, unless it clearly appeared that the nation which advanced the money has not received as recognition of such action some part of Chinese territory or some special privilege which would work to the detriment of other nations.

The customs service has prepared statistics to show that the average ad valorem rate of duty collected in this country during the two years' operation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff is actually less than the corresponding rate during the 12 years of the Dingley law. In the fiscal year which ended June 30, last the value of imports was $1,527,945,652 and the duties collected amounted to $303,651,944. This was about half of all the government's revenue. Politicians, particularly those who are crying for a lower tariff, are not expected to see these figures.

A Paris leader in fashions, visiting in this country, says that within five years a man, to follow fashion correctly, will be forced to don a powdered wig, wear tight-fitting knee breeches, silk stockings, shoes with buckles and shirts with lace ruffles at the sleeves. Fashions undoubtedly run in cycles, but it is to be hoped that there will not be a return to his style of dress.

THE NOVEMBER MAGAZINES

The November Century begins that magazine's eighty-third volume and this gives the number special interest, aside from its varied list of good things. Perhaps first in importance is a one-act play by the late Sir William S. Gilbert, one of two secured by the Century since that noted playwright's death. It is a character study of a man of the lower London classes under sentence of death, and has a certain Dickens quality. It is called "The Hooligan," and there are illustrations by Reginald Birch. Another popular writer represented is the author of "The Broad Highway," Jeffery Farnol, who contributes a romantic short story, "The Journey's End."

Henry T. Finck, an authority on food and cookery, has the first of three suggestive articles on "Ungastronomic America." While it is true that American cookery has made considerable progress since the days of "Martin Chuzzlewit" (1843), yet in Mr. Finck's opinion we still perpetrate many gastronomic atrocities. The author presents a theory of wholesome eating and later articles will treat of multiplying the pleasures of the table and the future of cooking and eating.

Other features include an account of eighteenth-century color prints and English society, by Royal Cortissoz; a narrative of unique personal experiences in the Andes, by Charles Johnson Post, the first of a series of travel papers; two articles on Lafayette, and a timely and significant discussion, "The Western Student as Seen by His Instructors," by Professor William Stearns Davis of the University of Minnesota.

The November National Magazine embodies the sentiment of Thanksgiving hospitality and affection from the cover design, whereon the good old New England farmer, with fluttering "comforter" about his neck, is trudging joyously homeward with the indispensable turkey for the Thanksgiving dinner. Although "everybody is away" at Washington, the ubiquitous Joe Chapple finds plenty of interesting things to chronicle of November doings at the capital city, even if the nation's solons are looking after their fences.

An appreciative tribute to the California poet and scientist, Charles Keeler, is contributed by George Wharton James. A frank judgment of "The American Theatre" is passed by Henry Kolker, the young star who is considered the logical successor of the late Richard Mansfield. The editor tells about "Making Laws in Holland," being an account of his late observations in the land of dunes, dykes and polders. The fiction for the month seems to have been selected with a special eye for the Thanksgiving season. Among the verses scattered through the number are William Hodge's stanzas "To Suzanne at Twelve."

RECORD TRIP BY NAVY AIRMEN.

After a flight in a hydro-aeroplane 145 miles down the coast from Annapolis, Md., Lieutenants Gordon Ellyson and John G. Towers, U. S. N., landed late Wednesday on the broad reach of Huckroe Beach, Va., three miles from Fortress Monroe. The officers were suffering from the bitter cold when they landed, and hurried to shelter.

Lieutenant Ellyson, who was in charge of the naval aeronautical school at Annapolis, and Lieutenant Towers made their descent after the most remarkable and successful flight in the history of naval aviation, having flown from Annapolis, a distance of 146 miles, in the remarkable time of 2 hours and 27 minutes. The flight, which was made without slip or mishap, was the second attempt in as many weeks, the plucky aviators being forced to return to Annapolis on their former trial, owing to engine trouble, after covering half the distance.

When they sighted Old Point Comfort, the aviators began to look about for a place to alight. The engine was stopped, and the big hydro-aeroplane was allowed to settle in the water, which it did with the grace of a gull. The gear was changed to the propellor shaft, and the machine was run ashore. At the point of landing the shore is practically uninhabited, and before the lieutenants could secure communication with Washington to impart the news of their successful flight, they were forced to travel seven miles to a telegraph office.

Lieutenant Ellyson said the start from Annapolis was made in a strong east wind, which continued throughout the trip, and which grew stronger toward the end. However, he said, the machine had little difficulty in keeping its course, and a straight course was steered down the west shore of Chesapeake bay. The speed of the machine varied from 60 to 70 miles an hour, and averaged a speed of nearly 60 miles. Each of the lieutenants took turns at steering by means of the shift control, and both were relieved of the strain that would have occurred without such control. After selecting a landing place, the aviators will return to their machine and fly with it to Old Point.

They expect to make the return trip to Annapolis Friday, starting in the morning.

WIELDERS OF THE RACQUET.

Dixon of England Brackets Larned and Little as the Foremost Americans.

C. P. Dixon, who led the British Isles lawn tennis team in the preliminary tie matches on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club, New York, has some interesting comment upon the methods of leading American players in the latest issue of the English official organ, which arrived in this country recently.

The famous Briton brackets William A. Larned and Raymond D. Little as the foremost American wielders of the racquet. That will not be surprising to those who watched the remarkable work of Little this season, for he easily surpassed all previous performances, and his fine versatility and skillful execution won for him a national championship in the doubles which he richly deserved. The Englishman appears to regard weakness at back-court play as the chief fault of the American game. He writes, in part, as follows:

"There are several points of contrast between American and English lawn tennis players and their methods. One is forcibly struck by the comparative weakness of American players from the base line as much as by anything else at first sight. There are, of course, a few notable exceptions; for instance, W. A. Larned, the United States champion, whose back-court play is perhaps the principal feature of his excellence. Raymond D. Little is another player whose powerful forehand drive constitutes a deadly engine of attack. These two Americans possess styles more approaching those of our own leading players.

"The Wrenn brothers, though neither is particularly severe off the ground, possess methods more in accordance with many of the English school. R. D. Wrenn, an ex-champion of the United States, reminds one a good deal of R. B. Powell in his net play, and his similarity is increased by the fact of their both being left-handed. In doubles the Wrenns are more subtle than forcing, and they frequently employ the lob with great effect.

"The general body of American players, as compared with our own, show an inferiority both in the pace and length of their ground strokes. There are no players in the United States with quite the force behind the driving of S. H. Smith or the power and consistency of A. W. Gore at their best. The 'stiff-arm' drive is hardly ever seen. In style and execution we are superior also. The strokes of a large number of American players off the ground are belabored—they get there, but more energy is expended in so doing. Even among their first-class players several use the chop, and the clean, hard hitting practised so continually here is conspicuously absent in the play of the Americans.

"More importance is attached by our friends on the other side to service and volleying, and in these departments the superiority of their players over us is most marked. To gain the net position and win the ace by a clean placed volley seems to be the paramount consideration with most of their players. In fact, their methods may be described as dusting.

"As to service, Maurice E. McLoughlin's service is of the fast, swerving American type, and skillfully placed as it generally is, it enables him to use his great volleying powers effectively. Very few of his countrymen are so powerfully armed in this respect, but numbers possess very awkward services, notwithstanding. T. C. Bundy, the player from Los Angeles, has a puzzling reverse service, and many others could be named who score heavily in this department. The services of our own leading players on the whole suffer much in comparison. I include in volleying all overhead work, and here again the Americans are the stronger, in that they are more consistent.

"McLoughlin's smashing is as severe as that of any player I have come across; and very rarely does he miss a 'sitter.' Though the Californian in this particular is fuelle princeps in America, many other players smash almost as well, not only from close to the net, but some distance back."

AN UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT.

[Lippincott's.]

The Poor Relation had not been invited to the formal function at the great house but he went to the door in spite of that oversight.

"Where's your card?" inquired the First Gentleman in Waiting.

"Nobody can get in without a card."

"Well, I'm nobody," murmured the Poor Relation, but the First Gentleman in Waiting could not grasp the delicate humor of it, and the Poor Relation was turned away.

Personal Property Voters.

Persons assessed for Personal Property, whose names are on the voting list must pay the tax on the same on or before October 31, 1911, to qualify them to vote at the Election to be holden on the Seventh day of November A. D. 1911.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair tonight and Friday; light winds, generally westerly.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Although there is considerable cloudiness over all parts of the country, except New England, the southwest and extreme northwest, there is no storm area in any section, the only precipitation that has occurred during the past 24 hours having been light showers or snow flurries in the upper Lake region and widely scattered points in the Missouri valley. The pressure has diminished somewhat in eastern districts, with the eastward passage of the high pressure area that yesterday overlay New England. The influence of the northwestern high pressure area, however, maintains the pressure above the normal in the central valleys and middle states. The temperature is higher in the southwest and lower in the upper Mississippi valley, but otherwise there is little change. At 8 a. m. in New York it was 50, Washington 44, Atlanta 60, Jacksonville 70, St. Louis 44, Chicago 46, St. Paul 30, Omaha 34, Kansas City 42, Denver 34, Los Angeles 60, San Francisco 54 and Portland, Oregon, 44.

WHEREAS James F. Sheekey and others by their petition to the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newport in said State have prayed said Board to declare the following described piece of land to be a public highway, to wit: A certain open street or way called Lucas Avenue being about thirty feet in width and extending from Thames Street to Marchant Street, and representing that said highway has been quietly, peaceably and actually used and improved and considered as a public highway for the space of more than twenty years last past. And it being shown to said Board that you are interested in or have claim to said land through which said so-called highway is laid, or some part thereof, said Board referred the consideration of said petition to the 28th day of October A. D. 1911 at 8:15 o'clock P. M. in the Council Chamber in the City Hall.

YOU ARE THEREFORE hereby notified to appear before said Board at said time and place, if you see fit, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted and said piece of land declared by said Board of Aldermen to be a public highway according to the Statute in such case made and provided.

Ordered and given by said Board of Aldermen on the 3d day of October A. D. 1911.

Signed and sealed by order and in behalf of said Board of Aldermen by F. N. Fullerton, Clerk of said Board, on the day last aforesaid.

CONSIDERATION OF EVIDENCE BEGUN.

Sufficient Proof to Convict Richeson of Murder.

Case Noted for the Rapidity With Which It Went to the Grand Jury

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—The consideration by the Suffolk County grand jury of the evidence secured by the prosecution against Rev. Clarence Virgil Thompson Richeson, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Cambridge, who is charged with the murder of Avis Linnell, a music student of Hyannis, began at the court house in Pemberton Square today. Chief Joseph Dugan of the bureau of criminal investigation of the Boston police department and District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier were in charge of the government's case against the accused minister. Both officials expressed confidence that they had evidence sufficient not only to indict but also to convict Mr. Richeson of the crime with which he is charged.

Among the witnesses who came to the court house prepared to appear before the grand jury were Mrs. Edgar Linnell of Hyannis, mother of the tragedy victim, Mrs. W. H. McLean of Brockton, sister of the dead girl, and Mr. McLean; William Hahn, the Newton Centre druggist, who says he sold cyanide of potassium to Mr. Richeson October 10; Miss Patterson, superintendent of the Boston Young Women's Christian Association home on Warrenton street, where the Linnell girl lived, and several young woman who live at the Young Women's Christian Association and who were friends of Miss Linnell.

It is expected it will take two and perhaps three days for the grand jury to hear all the witnesses summoned by the district attorney.

Probably no other case of such importance in this state ever moved with the rapidity of that which went to the grand jury today. The grand jurors took up consideration of the evidence against Pastor Richeson six days after his arrest. He had been taken before the lower court and a hearing had been set for October 31, but the district attorney stepped into the matter and called a special session of the grand jury. This move will preclude the defense from securing a line on the prosecution's evidence, while a hearing in the lower court would necessarily have exposed the entire government's case.

The grand jurors retired to their room at 9:30, where they were addressed briefly by Associate Justice George A. Sanderson of the superior court, who is presiding at one of the criminal sessions here. District Attorney Pelletier presented the evidence to the jury.

The first witness heard was the medical examiner, Dr. Timothy Leary, who performed the autopsy on Miss Linnell's body, and who first called the attention of the police to the probable fact that her death was a case of murder and not suicide. Dr. Leary was before the grand jury about half an hour.

When he came out of the room, Mrs. Linnell and Mrs. McLean, mother and sister of the victim, went in. Mrs. Linnell was leaning on the arm of Captain Ainsley Armstrong, of the bureau of criminal investigation. All the witnesses were kept secluded, by order of the district attorney, and could be seen only as they entered and left the jury room.

Assistant District Attorney Michael J. Dwyer announced his resignation today, to become effective November 1. Mr. Dwyer denied the report that he and Mr. Pelletier had had a disagreement. He said that he was retiring in order to take up private practice. In the meantime Mr. Dwyer will be Mr. Pelletier's active assistant in presenting the evidence in the Richeson case before the grand jury.

The hearing was suspended at 1 o'clock for luncheon. Up to that time about a dozen witnesses had been heard.

The late forenoon witnesses included Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Carter of Cambridge, in whose house Rev. Mr. Richeson boarded, Miss Patterson, superintendent of the Young Women's Christian Association, and several of Miss Linnell's fellow roomers.

CANCELLATION DECIDED UPON.

Steel Corporation Gives Up Lease of Great Northern Ore Properties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—At a special meeting today the directors of the United States Steel Corporation formally decided to cancel the corporation's lease of the Great Northern ore properties. The directors also adopted resolutions recommending to the directors of the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern Railway Company a reduction in freight rates on iron ore from mines in the Mesaba range to Duluth, to a figure not exceeding 60 cents per ton and to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad Company a similar reduction in the iron ore rate from the Vermilion and Mesaba Iron range to Duluth and Two Harbors, Minn.

J. Pierpont Morgan, President Farrell of the Steel Corporation, George F. Baker, Daniel G. Reid, John F. Dryden, Henry Phipps, P. A. B. Widener and Clement A. Griscom were among the prominent directors present. It was reported before the meeting that William E. Corey, former president of the corporation, would tender his resignation from the directorate.

Chairman Gary announced that no other action was taken and no other subject considered at the meeting. He declined to discuss reports that Mr. [illegible] Henry Phipps or Norman B. [illegible] were to resign as directors.

FANS WAKE UP AGAIN.

When the base ball world woke up after the rain Tuesday and the games [illegible] there seemed to be a [illegible] of interest in Newport. The [illegible] which watched or listened to the bulletins in front of The News office was not so large as it had been, and the calls over the telephone for the score showed a great falling off. But that one game seemed to wake everyone up and Wednesday was a [illegible] for the fans. The gathering [illegible] in front of The News [illegible] made folks stop talking [illegible] the megaphone talked was the [illegible] of any since the series began. [illegible] found that the telephone [illegible] still ring for the score if they [illegible] and the telephone girls had a [illegible] day than the day before. [illegible] was not so pleasant, but the [illegible] out early and seemed as [illegible] interested in the game as ever, and the telephone began ringing early.

INDOOR COUNTY FAIR OPENED.

The Indoor County Fair at the Young Men's Christian Association opened auspiciously this afternoon and it was a revelation to many to see what a transformation had taken place in a comparatively short time.

The main features of the sale are to be seen in the boys' lobby, where the decorating committee has taken great pains and lavished its best efforts. The seven booths are attractively designed, with more or less variation in construction. The centre of the hall is occupied by a rustic enclosure called the flower booth, where may be seen a profusion of fragrant plants and flowers of many varieties. This department is in charge of Mrs. John C. Seabury. Surrounding this, on either side of the hall, are six other booths—the fancy booth, in charge of Mrs. George H. Bryant; the linen booth Mrs. Robert Frame; the cake booth, Mrs. W. H. Tibbetts; the candy booth, Mrs. George H. Barlow; the apron booth, Mrs. W. H. Easton, and the table of domestic articles, Miss Mary A. Hazard.

The managers of the fair pride themselves on the horticultural and agricultural collection exhibited in the basement. In preparing this department they had the assistance of a large number of the gardeners in the summer colony. Those contributing included August Belmont, Cornelius Vanderbilt, R. L. Beeckman, Mrs. T. O. Richardson, Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, Alexander McLellan, Sisson & Thurston, Miss Fanny Foster, Mrs. Robert Goelet, Mrs. Theodore K. Gibbs, H. D. Auchincloss, Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer.

The collection of dahlias presented by Messrs. Winfield S. Sisson and Parker L. Thurston attracted much attention, comprising more than 100 specimens of the peony-flowered thing cactus varieties, the remarkable thing about them being their fine preservation so late in the season.

The collection sent from "Oakland Farm" consisted of dressed chickens and ducks, and butter; from Mr. Auchincloss an unusually fine lot of vegetables, and from the others named above mostly cut flowers and plants, including rex begonias, both large and small; dahlias, dracenas and one Jerusaleum cherry plant.

The gymnasium has been given up to novelties exclusively. There is a device for trying to knock off the farmer's hat with base balls, a hat-trimming contest for men and a little exhibit of interest to children, a number of rabbits and chickens. At the wireless station in charge of Irving Coggeshall, Walter Clarke, Donald Thurston and Stedman Ward the patrons may witness the transmission of messages across the river Styx. Miss Julia Brown draws caricatures, which she completes with much rapidity and great satisfaction. Physical Director P. H. Slocum will be in charge of making physical tests enabling any one to learn height, weight, lung capacity and lifting power.

The vaudeville part this evening will comprise impersonations by Mr. Fred P. Webber, Indian club swinging by Mr. K. B. Squires and dancing by a group of Seniors in costume.

SOME FISH COMING IN.

There were some fish today. First C. B. Anderson had a large variety—squid, robins, kingfish, herring, menhaden, tautog, hake, cod, horse mackerel, butters, conger eels, etc., of course never forget whiting—but he did not seem particularly impressed with the supply of the fish most in demand. In came Captain Jim Kelly in the Priscilla, with 28 barrels of flounders, which ought to be worth something but are not. Later came the Clara T., Captain "Chet" Tallman, temporary skipper, with 14 barrels of small mackerel. It was his first fishing expedition in more than 10 years and he had more than made good, having as many fish as the Wood & Mack, Captain Kent, and the Maude Gertrude, each of which had seven barrels of small mackerel.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Hammett are visiting in New Bedford.

—Three of the destroyers are still at the Torpedo Station. The submarine division was under way about 1:30 p. m. for New York, to be in time for the big parade.

—Mrs. William H. Taft, the President's wife, has sent a handkerchief to be sold at the Young Men's Christian Association bazaar. It will probably be auctioned off.

—Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Sisson Wednesday quietly observed their silver wedding anniversary at their home on Central street. They were married at Norwich, Conn., where Mrs. Sisson then resided.

—Cards have been received here announcing the marriage, in Hopkinton, Mass., Wednesday, of Miss Cora Adelaide Phipps, daughter of Mr. Fred Oscar Phipps of that place, to Mr. George Swan Langley, formerly of this city.

—Past Commanders William Champion, Joseph Gibson and George C. Lawton and Captain General Robert S. Burlingame of Washington Commandery are in Boston today, attending the annual meeting of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

—Mr. William E. Dodge's fast motor boat Tarpon has gone to New York to be laid up, and was the last of the summer craft moored off the shipyard to go. It is understood that Mr. Dodge has a faster boat under construction, and it may be ready for next year. He expected to have it this year.

—It looked like a storm this afternoon. The weather was pleasant up to noon and things seemed fine, but then they changed and it looked a good deal like another storm. It seems a long time since there was any rain, but if they only finish the world's series of base ball games some people will not care much whether or not it rains.

—The highway department is putting in the new street between Wellington and West Narragansett avenues. As it was deemed unsafe to use the big roller on R. J. K. Sullivan's small roller has been secured for the work. Byrnes street is being macadamized, the curb work having been finished. One of the steam rollers is now on the lower end of Kay street.

—The High School Club of the Young Men's Christian Association in the weekly debate Wednesday evening discussed the subject, "Resolved, That a Fraternity is an Injury to a High School." The affirmative side was upheld by Hawthorne Leonard, L. Leys and Henry Reavey, and the negative, which won, was presented by Julian Johnson, Theodore Tollefson and Kenneth Morrison. After the debate three quarters of an hour was devoted to Bible study.

TRIPOLI TO BE CONQUERED FIRST.

Reports of Armistice Between Italy and Turkey Un true.

Expedition Being Prepared to Re-Inforce Troops Landed in Africa.

ROME, via frontier, Oct. 26.—All reports concerning the possibility of an armistice between Italy and Turkey are discredited in official circles which affirm on the contrary that Italy is determined not to cease her military operations until Tripoli is wholly conquered. A partial armistice, limited to the naval forces might be possible if such a step would help Turkey along the road to peace, based on the loss of her African province.

Premier Giolitti, in accord with the minister of war, General Springardi, is firm in his purpose to persevere in the policy of an extensive occupation of Tripoli and is preparing another expedition to re-inforce the troops already landed on the African shore and to fill the gaps caused by casualties and illness. The new expedition will comprise 1,000 Grenadiers, the men of the greatest height in the service, and the only body which was not represented in the former expeditions.

CHANCE OF MEDIATION ENDED.

Germany Sees No Intervention With Turkey Continuing the War.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Advices from Constantinople state that the reports of recent battles, with Italian losses at Tripoli, have ended for the present any chance for mediation. The Turkish government, adopting the standpoint of the people, has swung over to the idea of continuing the war. Germany, accordingly, sees no opening for intervention.

A despatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Tripoli says that 300 men were killed in the battle at Tripoli Monday. These included a large proportion of officers, and Italian reinforcements are needed. The spectres of revolution in Constantinople and complications in the Balkans are again alarming official circles here, but it is believed the danger which would result from an Italian occupation of the island in the archepaligo or the bombardment of Smyrna has been removed, as there are some indications that Italy has abandoned the plan after sounding the powers.

REPORT NOT CONFIRMED.

Emperor Nicholas Reported as Having Been Assassinated, in the Crimea.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Indefinite rumors became current this morning in Vienna and Berlin that Emperor Nicholas of Russia had been assassinated. Careful inquiries, made here and in the above mentioned cities as well as in Russia, have failed to elicit the slightest confirmation of the report.

NO TRUTH IN REPORTS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—There is no truth whatever in the reports circulated abroad of an attempt on the lives of the emperor and empress. They are declared officially to have been circulated for the purpose of influencing the market.

FEW EXCEPTIONS MADE.

All Jews in Province of Yekaterinoslav Subject to Expulsion.

YUZOVKA, Russia, Oct. 26.—By an order of the governor all Jews in the province of Yekaterinoslav are subject to expulsion, with the following exceptions: First, those living in the province since May 16, 1882; second, artisans and others having permits of residence from the governor's chancery; third, those residents in since August 11, 1906, if an order of expulsion against them has already been set aside by the governor's chancery; and fourth, those who changed to a rural residence between May 16, 1882 and January 11, 1888.

Many of those thus subject to expulsion of their affairs, and to avoid financial ruin some are adopting the Russian faith. To avoid fi- sudden expulsion prevents a liquidation of their affairs, an dto avoid financial ruin some are adopting the Russian faith.

ONE OF THE TWO ESCAPED.

But the Second of a Pair of "Workers" Caught and Pleads Guilty as an Idle Person.

Wednesday a pair of would-be willing workers arrived in Newport and at once started to work the population of the city. There were two of them and they were young and fresh, and when they began to act suspiciously in Hart's book store and assistance was called the visitors at once left. That confirmed the suspicions which the girl who was alone in the store at the time had formed because of the actions of the two.

Inspector Tobin was notified and started out and caught them. It was something of a fishing catch; he had two and finally he had only one, for one had still the disappearing nature he had shown at Hart's, and the Inspector not having sure nip on him he departed. However, one did not escape, as the inspector still had him when he reached the station, shortly after 4. He said he came from Boston, and was going to do some picture work. The other fellow is still missing.

This morning the prisoner, who gave the name of Frank Waterman and said he was 23 years old and from Boston, pleaded not guilty to a charge of being an idle person and in default of bail went to jail until October 31.

THE PRACTICE MARCH.

The weekly practice march of the naval apprentices was held this afternoon, nine companies, a band, drum and bugle corps and ahospital detail forming the line, which was in command of Mate William McKay. The boys made a natty appearance in their blue jerseys and the square formation as they passed through upper Thames street. This, together with the other features of the riot drill which were executed, were applauded, not audibly but by little complimentary remarks which could be heard all along the side lines.

TRIMMED MILLINERY.

Paris Models faithfully reproduced

To sell at extremely moderate prices.

As a customer remarked yesterday, "It does not seem possible you could ever sell so many hats in Newport."

That is the reason our Millinery business is growing so rapidly, growing by leaps and bounds.

Large, varied assortments of the very latest correct styles, reasonably priced.

A noteworthy collection at $6.00, $8.00, $10.00, $12.00 to $50.00.

FOR THE IDA LEWIS FUNERAL.

It has been suggested, in view of the half-holiday adopted for Thursday afternoons and the fact that there is not a rush of business at this season in the afternoon, that storekeepers, especially on Thames street, might do something pleasing Friday by closing their shops for the hour of the funeral of Ida Lewis; also, that flags be shown at half-staff.

Ida Lewis was one of the institutions of this community. Perhaps she had lived beyond many of those who knew her best, but the deeds which made her famous are remembered and the fact that she was so well known to everybody connected with Newport and who knew of Newport makes her more than an ordinary citizen. It would be a tribute to the memory of one who was known wherever the English language was read and spoken, and it could be done without loss. The matter of displaying flags of course would cost nothing but a little thought in seeing that they were up for the time of the funeral.

ACTUALLY GOES TO THE OUTER FOUNTAIN.

It does not seem exactly fair to dispel fond impressions, and one of these is that the Outer Fountain Fishing Club does not know where the Outer Fountain is, never having visited it in the now flagship Patience. Still, today that fond idea was added to the other myths with which history is crowded, for the boat did go out to the Outer Fountain. Messrs. Bradford Norman and Powel, with a party of women, took advantage of the pleasant weather and the prospects of good fishing, and after taking on bait the flagship started for the Outer Fountain. This may be considered the event of the fall season in the fishing line.

LEGAL POINT RAISED.

Jury in McNamara Case May Not be Selected for a Month.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 26.—Four talesmen, subject only to peremptory challenges, one whose challenge for cause was under consideration, and one whose examination was uncompleted, were all that were left out of a venire of 125 men summoned in the McNamara murder trial when court opened today.

In reality only 45 talesmen have been examined since the trial began, the remainder having been weeded out in a preliminary examination conducted by Judge Bordwell, who went into extraneous reasons only, leaving to counsel the work of finding out the state of mind of each talesman after the trial formally opened 18 days ago.

Several attorneys in the case figured out today that at the present rate it would take about four weeks to secure a jury. No one, however, is making estimates to the time the jury box would be filled. District Attorney John D. Fredericks refused today to make a prediction. "By the end of the week," he said, "we may be able to make one."

Unless there is objection, it seemed likely today that further veniremen would be secured by calling into Judge Bordwell's court those awaiting jury service in other branches of the superior court. The alternative to this was summoning a new venire and this was considered entirely possible. No secret was made today of the fact that opposing counsel have been investigating the antecedents of veniremen now in other courts, and of all persons whose names were drawn for jury service January 1, 1911.

In this connection a legal point raised as to qualification was still unsettled today. The law provides that no man shall serve as a juror whose name is not on the county assessment roll. The point came up in the examination of Charles H. Binder and he was excused, but at that time Judge Bordwell expressed doubt as to whether Binder's case was covered by the intent of the law.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

John H. Manchester, one of the oldest residents of the town, died this morning at his home on the East Main road, of the infirmities of age, after an illness of about a week. He was 85 years old, having been born in 1826, a son of John Manchester, and had spent his entire life in Middletown, having married in 1847 Mary E., daughter of Rescom Peckham and granddaughter of John Rogers Peckham. Mr. Manchester and a great-grandson of Isaac Manchester, both of whom were prominent citizens of the town. Mrs. Manchester died a few years ago and since her death his daughter, Mrs. Lydia McCartney, has kept house for him in the old homestead. He leaves two sons, Rescom P. and Lewis R. Manchester.

The harvest supper given Wednesday evening at the Berkeley parish house for the benefit of St. Columba's Guild was successful, a fine evening and an excellent supper calling out a good number. Mrs. Joseph F. Albro, president of the guild, was chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. Overton Peckham, Mrs. Edward J. Peckham and Mrs. Nathan Smith who had charge of the three supper tables. Mrs. Albro was also assisted by Mrs. Joel Peckham and Mrs. John Peabody. Miss Susanna Allen, Mrs. Harry E. Peckham, Mrs. John Molden and Miss Nellie R. Peckham aided in serving at the tables.

The menu included cold meats, brown bread and beans, rolls, coffee, pies, and cake. The three supper tables were ornamented with salvia and sweet geranium. The various rooms were extensively decorated with dahlias and clematis, the floral effect in the guild room receiving much favorable comment, with the open fireplace arranged to represent a fire in flame-colored dahlias, the work of Mrs. E. D. Tarbell, who conducted the decorating.

Following the supper, Miss Gladys Kaull of Newport played for dancing, a number coming in especially for this. There was an attendance of more than 100.

The Paradise Club was entertained Tuesday by Mrs. C. Edward Farnum in Newport. The subject of the afternoon, "What Women are Doing Today," was presented by Mrs. Edward A. Brown in a well prepared paper, which was supplemented by an article from the Ladies' Home Journal. Light refreshments were served.

The Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude will be observed by a special morning service conducted by Rev. Newman Lawrence at the Church of the Holy Cross. In the afternoon prominent leaders along missionary lines, from Providence and Newport, will address the Junior Auxiliary on the work planned for the winter. The speakers will be entertained by Mrs. Phebe E. T. Manchester, president of the Junior Auxiliary, and her assistants, Miss Amanda Chase and Miss Avesta Champlin.

Mr. William M. Hughes has been appointed chairman of the committees on supper, musical and advertising, for the turkey supper to be given in November by the combined parishes

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Miss Powell has returned from North Falmouth.

—Miss Martha Lenders is visiting Mrs. Ernest Behrend at Erie, Pa

—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas will close their Newport season Friday, going to New York for the winter.

—Mrs. Francis Ormonde French is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbilt at "Harbourview."

—Mrs. E. H. G. Slater closed her cottage, "Hopedene," on the Cliffs, today and will visit Hot Springs, Va., before going to her Washington home for the winter.

—Miss Margaret Baker, younger daughter of Joudge and Mrs. Darius Baker, was successfully operated upon for appendicitis Wednesday and had a comfortable night.

—Mrs. Thomas J. Emery will close her Middletown residence, "Mariemont," today and go to New York, where she will occupy apartments at the Hotel St. Regis.

—There was a still alarm at 6:32 Wednesday evening for a rack draft in a tenement on Pond avenue. The firemen assured the people in the house that all was well.

—Mrs. Sidney Jones Dolford, Jr., entertained at "Claradon Court" Wednesday evening, the dinner being followed by informal dancing for which Howard's orchestra furnished the music.

—Mr. H. A. Kalkman is building a garage in the rear of his drug store, and is building it right. Crushed stone, cement and iron beams are the material used and when these are properly combined by good workmen the result is a garage which is fireproof.

—The marriage of Miss Gwendolin Burden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, to Mr. David Dows will take place in Grace Church, New York, Tuesday, December 12.

—Rev. George Vernon Dickey, rector of St. George's Church, who was operated upon two weeks ago, was able to leave the Newport Hospital Wednesday and will leave town Friday for a three weeks' rest.

—News has been received here of the serious illness of Rev. James H. Looby, formerly assistant at St. Mary's Church in this city and now pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, North Easton, Mass.

—The traveler who believes in sleeping in the open air, and who was gathered in from the vicinity of Coddington point Wednesday, this morning pleaded guilty to a charge of sleeping out and was sent to the workhouse for six months.

—The Newport Coal Company is putting in granite block pavement on its wharf alongside the scales. This is contrary to the custom of Newport coal wharves, but it will undoubtedly prove a good investment for the company, as it will avoid the quagmire which was sure to be there in winter.

—Mr. John F. Tennant, who has been assistant engineer on the Fall River Line boats for a number of years, being a graduate from the repair shops, has left the company's employ to accept the position of engineer on Commodore James's estate, a position which will permit him to remain in Newport the year round.

—Hoseman Carr, who was thrown from Hose 1 while going to the fire Wednesday, is about today, being a little sore in the legs as a result of his tumble but not suffering otherwise. He says he was trying to wave to an automobile to give way to Hose 5, which was just behind, and in doing so let go with one hand just as the reel struck the car tracks.

—The teams in the City Basket Ball League will play for two cups this winter. The one given by Rev. W. A. Doran, D. D., is contested annually, the winners having their names engraved on it each year. Now Mr. R. L. Beeckman has given a second cup, and the executive committee will decide the terms on which it is to be played for.

—Mrs. William E. Dodge has returned from New York to close "Grave) Court," which she occupied during the past summer. She has been visiting her husband, who is in St. Luke's Hospital as a result of a broken ankle. Mr. Dodge, while playing tennis a few days ago, slipped, breaking one of the small bones of the ankle. He will be confined to the hospital about 10 days, when he will go to his residence.

—News comes from Sacramento, Cal., of the sudden death, through heart failure, of Monseigner Thomas John Capel, at one time one of the most talked-about men in the English Catholic Church and one who years ago, when he came to America to raise funds for his school, preached at St. Mary's Church in this city and was one of the big visitors of that time. He had been living in seclusion in California for a number of years.

—The play which the Walter Lowrie Club is to give Tuesday evening is called "A Romance of the Golden West." It is in the hands of the Club's well known amateurs, which insures a pleasing entertainment. After the play the floor will be cleared for those who wish to dance. It is a custom of this club each year to give such an entertainment, donating a part of the proceeds to some other society. This year it has been decided to help swell the fund of $2,500 which the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal Church is endeavoring to raise for the improvement of its property.

Mothers of Skin Tortured and Disfigured Children!

You should know that a warm bath with Cuticura Soap and a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment will, in most cases, bring immediate relief, the little sufferers will sleep, tired, fretted mothers will rest, and peace will fall on distracted households.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. 15N, Boston, will secure liberal samples of each, with 32-p. booklet on the skin.

A REGAL HEAD

How often do we hear or see this expression used in describing a beautiful woman!

Denude that head of its hair and instead of a queenly, royal bearing we have a fright. The hair makes all the difference. To have that glorious abundance of radiant hair which always crowns "a regal head," one should use Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide represents the last word in scientific hair culture. It destroys the dandruff germ, checks falling hair and corrects generally, diseases of the hair and scalp.

The positive results and its delicate but refreshing odor recommends Newbro's Herpicide to ladies of refinement everywhere.

Applications made by the best barbers and hair dressers.

DEALER BEATS STANDARD OIL.

Claims He Was Forced Out of Business and Recovers Damages.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—John J. Moran, formerly a well-to-do dealer in oils and paints here, won $8,243 damages against the Standard Oil Company today on the ground that the corporation had forced him out of business. Mr. Moran sued for $31,000. He charged that the Standard Oil Company was anxious to obtain his business, and finally ruined his trade by furnishing him goods of such poor quality that he lost his customers.

Mass of People in Shang Tung Await Overthrow of the Manchus.

TSI NAN, Shan Tung Province, China, Oct. 26.—Public sympathy throughout the province of Shan Tung is with the revolutionists. Only the officials cling to the dynasty and they are extremely nervous. The mass of the people awaits the overthrow of the Manchus.

IN THE REVOLT AT HANKOW.

American Gunboat Helena and British Gunboat Thistle Participate.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—A detailed report of the fighting at Hankow, October 12, received here, states that American gunboat Helena and British gunboat Thistle participated.

This is the first report of the revolt at Hankow which has reported the foreign warships as taking any part, and is contrary to the best information from all other sources. Other German messages from Hankow have lacked confirmation.

PARTY IMPRESSED WITH WEST.

The Taft Entourage Passes Through Green Bay En Route to Capital.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Oct. 26.—On this, his forty second day out of Washington, President Taft in fact entered "the enemy's country" Wisconsin, the home of Senator La Follette, who is to be his opponent for the Presidential nomination in 1912.

The President left St. Paul last night at 10:30 o'clock and arrived here early this morning. His principal stops on the way to Milwaukee, where he is due to arrive tonight, include in addition to Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh and Fond Du Lac. The last named city will be reached about 4 p. m., according to the revised schedule. There will be a large number of intermediate stops and speeches from the private car during the day. The President will speak in the auditorium at Milwaukee tonight and will spend the greater part of tomorrow there.

In the estimation of members of the Taft party the reception given the President in Green Bay, his first stop in Wisconsin, was not surpassed at any point on his present trip. There were thousands of persons along the line of march and more than 15,000 stood around the court house to hear Mr. Taft's speech on peace and arbitration. They applauded freely.

There were disappointed would-be farmers on board President Taft's special train when it passed through here today. Among them were White House stenographers, Presidential secretaries, military aides, official physicians, secret service men, messengers, newspaper men and Pullman porters. Visions of ranch life, of tilling the soil, of independent wealth, automobiles and all that go to make up the happy estate of the modern farmer, had been rudely brushed away and the disconsolate party was on its way back to Washington, where its members will resume their vocations they have followed these many years.

Many of the men in the President's party had never been in the real West before. Whether as a result of their own investigation or what they beheld from the car windows, or the wonderful tales poured into their credulous ears by the "boosters" of the great-western country, all the way to California and back again, nearly all of them had become impressed with the fact that a ranch somewhere west of the Mississippi or Missouri river would be just about ideal.

Secretary Hilles had prepared to leave politics forever and to settle down to the calm, carefree life of the alfalfa fields. Major Archie Butt, Presidential aide, was suprised to learn that he could become a millionaire and quit living on army ration in little or no time. Major Rhodes, the President's physician, thought that in addition to becoming a wealthy farmer he could soon build up a county practice that would make his army pay look like a widow's mite. So it was all along the line. Everybody on board the President's train had determined that the thing to do was to give up real work and go "back to the soil." President Taft helped matters along occasionally by preaching the doctrine of scientific agriculture and intensified farming as recommended by "Uncle Jimmie" Wilson, at Washington.

This was the state of mind of the Taft entourage when his train slowly puffed its way into Rapid City, S. D., last Saturday. President Taft made a good impression on the people of Rapid City, but nothing like the impression that was made upon the members of his party by a sign right across the street from his speaking stand. "United States registration office" it read.

Then the word was passed around that the government was giving away hundreds upon hundreds of acres of valuable land in the Rosebud and Pine Ridge reservations of South Dakota. All you had to do was to register your name, pay 25 cents to a notary public and swear that you did not own 160 acres of land anywhere else. Everybody on the train registered, with the exception of the President. He was being entertained at dinner and could not slip away with all the rest.

After registering and swearing and paying the 25 cents, the party was told that the applications they made for 160 acres of land apiece would be forwarded to Gregory. There they would be mingled with only about 50,000 other applications for the 3,000 tracts available for distribution. Then a little girl would pick out the fortunate ones. The land lottery began at Gregory Tuesday.

Yesterday and today the Presidential party scanned the news to see which of them would secure the more desirable sections. There were only 950 drawings published and not a Presidential follower was in the list. The sad blow came on top of the information imparted just before leaving Rapid City, that only the first 200 sections really would make it worth while for a man who aspired to become a millionaire to pull up stakes in the East and seek his fortune in the rolling west. Anybody who mentioned agriculture on the train today was in danger of his life.

ATHLETICS THE WORLD CHAMPIONS.

made a great try. Oldring singled to centre, Lord going to third and Oldring to second on the play. There was an awful racket when Collins stepped to the plate. On the squeeze play Lord scored on Collins's hit to Wiltse. The latter tried to catch Collins at first, but Merkle dropped the ball. Oldring scored on Baker's single over Doyle's head Collins going to third. Murphy singled to right centre, scoring Collins and Baker taking second on the drive. Davis then stepped to the plate with both Baker and Murphy on bases and only one out. Murphy's hit would have been an easy double had Baker not hesitated in running to second. Davis singled to right, scoring Baker, Murphy going to third. The stands were simply wild with cheering. Barry drove the ball over the temporary fence in right field for a double, scoring Murphy. Marquard here relieved Wiltse Thomas was the tenth man up in the inning, the Athletics having batted around with only one out. It was a great exhibition of consecutive hitting. Davis and Barry both scored on a wild pitch. So far in the inning there had been seven runs scored on six hits, a field choice, a wild pitch, and Merkle's error. The game had almost resolved itself into a tireless run. Thomas made his first hit of the series on a drive to right. He was so stunned that he lifted his cap when the crowd cheered. Bender then came up for the second time. Thomas was out, stealing, Meyers to Fletcher. Bender ended the inning by striking out.

Seven runs, seven hits, one error.

Eighth inning, first half—Devore was thrown out, Barry to Davis. Doyle out, Davis to Bender, on a weak grounder. Barry, made his third error of the game by fumbling Snodgrass's grounder and the runner was safe at first. Murray was retired on a beautiful stop and throw by Collins to Davis.

No runs, no hits, one error.

Eighth inning, second half—Wilson goes in to catch for the Giants. Lord drove a double to left, his third hit of the game. Neither team seemed to be playing the game. Lord went to third on Oldring's fly to Snodgrass. Collins was out on an easy grounder Doyle to Merkle. On his last chance at bat in a world's championship game during 1911, Baker struck out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth inning, first half—Merkle lifted a high one and was out. Barry taking the fly. Herzog singled to centre and went to second on Oldring's error. Herzog took third on a wild pitch and Herzog scored on Fletcher's out at first, Collins to Davis. McInnis went to first instead of Davis. It was McInnis's first game in the world's series. Wilson out, Baker to McInnis.

One run, one hit, no errors.

DISAPPOINTED AT FAILURE.

Athletics Determined to End the Series.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Having failed to bring home the "bacon" yesterday, the Philadelphia Athletics will try to win the necessary fourth game from the fighting New York Giants, at Shibe Park this afternoon, to capture the base ball championship of the world. The National League champions have taken on a new lease of life and are determined to wage the stiffest kind of a battle to even up the series, and then fight it out for the seventh game in New York tomorrow. The Athletics are grievously disappointed in their failure to hold the Giants yesterday.

It is probable that Connie Mack will send in "Eddie" Plank, his reliable left-handed pitcher, to stop the Giants' batting streak. Plank pitched a masterly game on Shibe Park last week. He went into yesterday's game on the Polo grounds at a critical period of the tenth inning, without having been thoroughly warmed up.

Manager McGraw is expected to choose either Ames or Crandall. The experts do not believe McGraw will send Mathewson or Marquard into the box, as each was practically driven from the hurling mound in his last time out.

The weather early today was very hazy, but the sun could be discerned behind the veil and it was expected to burn up the haze before 10 o'clock. The temperature is about right for the game.

Awaiting the outcome of yesterday's game the Athletic management did not begin the sale of tickets for the sixth game until this morning. Large crowds were on hand early to purchase reserved seats. There were 1,000 people at the bleacher gates at 9 o'clock and shortly after that hour the gates were opened.

Concerning the statement of Umpire Klem, that Captain Doyle of New York did not touch the home plate when he came home with the winning run in the tenth inning yesterday, Manager Mack said: "I will make no protest. The Giants won the game and are entitled to the victory. Doyle was safe at the plate by 15 feet and the question of whether he slid over the plate or alongside of it is a matter of minor importance. I never have and never will bicker over decisions of umpires. The game will stand as a win for New York."

PITCHER COOMBS IN BED.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Jack Coombs, the brilliant Athletic pitcher, is in bed at his home in this city with serious internal injuries. In the sixth inning of yesterday's game at New York he wrenched his intestines and today his condition is so much worse that his physician called in two other doctors. They succeeded in reducing the injury and say no operation will be necessary. Coombs, however, will be in bed for a week and will need to wear a truss for some time. He will be able to pitch again next season, the doctors say.

Coombs when seen in bed said that in the sixth inning his cleats caught in the hole in the pitcher's box and when he delivered the ball he felt a terrific jar. The pain was intense, especially on the right side, but he kept on pitching. In the ninth inning he was forced to quit after Trainer Chadwick had examined him, though his team mates urged him to keep on.

Newport Jungle, No. 7, Fraternal Order of Tigers, had a gala meeting Wednesday evening on the occasion of the visit of Supreme Tiger Justin H. Boyce and Supreme Secretary Creighton W. Skelton. There was a large attendance and considerable important business was transacted.

Timothy J. Murphy was installed as royal monarch and Franklin C. Parsonage, who was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Marshall C. Rogers, was also installed in his new duties. Four applications for membership were received and three candidates were initiated. Supreme Tiger Boyce and Supreme Secretary Skelton made interesting addresses.

Following the business session a collation was served and there was a social session. The entertainment committee consisted of Michael H. Kearney, Hector Renaud and James Dugan.

The Weenat Shassit Association also held a meeting Wednesday evening, at which the trustees made a report upon the affairs of the Red Men's property on Thames street and their proposed action was approved. Among questions which came up was that of the elemination of the fruit stand in the future, and setting a price on the property on Mary street for school purposes. The price will be communicated to the School Committee, but with it goes a proposition to withhold an alleyway 10 feet wide from Mary street to the rear of the Thames Street property.

The degree team which will go to the state powwow in Providence in December worked the hunters' and warriors' degree on a candidate at the session of Weenat Shassit tribe. There was a large turnout of chiefs and after the meeting one of Potter's famous chowders was served in the dining hall.

DOGS AND HENS.

The Former Causing Havoc Among the Latter in the Lower Part of the City.

If it is not cows it may be horses, or hens and dogs, and dogs seemed to be the cause of complaint this morning. James Cowles reports that some time between 12 and 1, during the midnight hours, two dogs entered his henhouse on Bateman avenue and killed 14 hens.

This dog and hen business is coming to be a habit this season, especially in this district, Elner S. Johnson, gardener at the Cushing estate, reported October 24 that dogs had reached his chickens, and as a result he was minus 36 chickens and 3 pigeons. Captain Cotton has several times lost fowl from his farm near by.

It looks as though the school fund would make a big saving if it employed Dog Constable Hallock at double pay to go out and locate these dogs—and there is a pretty general idea as to what dogs they are. The constable has a place where he could put those dogs, and they would make no further demands on the dog fund.

JAMES R. KEENE'S HEALTH.

Mr. James R. Keene, returned to New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. after an absence of 11 months abroad, seven of which were spent in a hospital. Mr. Keene was looking pale and weak.

"If you had a wound in your side that had not healed, I don't think you would feel much like talking," he told the reporters. "Besides, you know, I was in a hospital for seven months, and am not familiar with what has been goin gon. Racing? Why, I haven't seen a race since before leaving New York, 11 months ago. I was never well enough to go to a race while abroad."

BATTLESHIP FLORIDA NOT COMING HERE.

Newporters who have been expecting to see the big battleship Florida, which is to displace the Connecticut as flagship of the Atlantic fleet, will be disappointed, as she will not come to Newport, as was supposed, with the First division. A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Rev. George W. Quick, D. D., pastor of the Second Baptist Church, observed his birthday anniversary Wednesday. He had not anticipated any formal recognition of the occasion, but when he reached the church for the mid-week service he found a vase containing 60 carnations on the reading desk, placed there by some of his parishioners.

This was not all, for when the service was concluded Deacon William P. Carr presented Dr. Quick with a purse of gold as a birthday gift from the people of the church in token of their appreciation of his work. Dr. Quick, although completely taken by surprise, responded in an appreciative manner, thanking his parishoners for their gift and their thoughtfulness and kindness to him during his pastorate. After the speech-making there was a general gathering of all present to offer congratulations personally.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Orpheus Male Singing Society at its annual meeting Wednesday evening transacted considerable business of importance. Eighteen members were present, two new members were elected and two others were proposed for membership. The society now consists of eight first tenors, eight second tenors, six first basses and five second basses. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Frank P. King.
Vice President—John R. Austin.
Secretary—Joseph Pearson.
Treasurer—Meizah H. Basford.
Librarian—Francis W. King.
Musical Director—Henry S. Hendy.

NOT INTERESTED IN THE BASE BALL SCORE.

The telephone plays funny tricks sometimes. During the excitement of the ball game Wednesday afternoon those who answered the almost constant calls at The News office soon dropped the formality of asking for name or even waiting for the voice, simply taking down the receiver and giving the score quickly, in order not to delay matters. In one instance, when this was done, the caller asked in a pretty sharp tone: "What's that?" "Four to three, favor of New York, 10 innings!" The voice called back: "I don't want any of that nonsense," and then proceeded to give his business order.

The International Bible Students' Association has made arrangements for R. E. Streeter, V. D. M., Bible scholar and lecturer, to give a second lecture on "God's Divine Plan of the Ages," illustrated by a chart. The object of these lectures is said to be not to establish any denomination or sect, but to stimulate Christians and others to a study of the Bible. The Association has arranged for similar lectures throughout the country and at all of them seats are free and no collection is taken.

Mr. Streeter claims that when rightly understood the Bible contains sufficient evidence to prove its own inspiration. He says: "In order to appreciate and harmonize the Scriptures, it is necessary for us to observe Heaven's first law of order and apply texts where they belong. If we keep in mind God's purpose in dealing differently with the world of mankind in the different ages or dispensations, we have no difficulty in harmonizing such apparently contradictory doctrines as those of election and free grace. In fact, we can readily see how the Bible is consistent with itself from Genesis to Revelation and proves that God is love."

ROGERS' HARDEST GAME.

The Rogers High School football eleven won another victory Wednesday, defeating the team from the Rhode Island School of Design, 13-0. The game was the hardest the local boys have played this season and when it started it looked as if the score would be closer than it was. The visitors ran the ball down the field and seemed bound for a touchdown, going to the 10-yard line before the Rogers boys came to themselves.

There were numerous injuries to the players, but none were due to rough playing. Lee of the Rogers team received the only serious injury, his shoulder being dislocated, and he will be out of the game for some time to come.

The visitors started the game, Corey kicking to Freeman. The first Rogers play was a forward pass, and it went into the visitors' hands. Then they started with a rush, McGeough circled right end for 11 yards and Stanley made 12 around the other end. Another first down and then came a fumble, Gamache taking the ball. Ebbs punted to Martin, and after two downs Rogers turn came. Corey tried to punt, but was blocked. Sullivan took the ball, went clear, and ran 65 yards for the first touchdown. M. Jemail missed the goal by a narrow margin.

Corey kicked to Freeman again. Ebbs punted, and the Designers started up the field. They tried the Rogers ends, and with two forward passes and three end runs, made three first downs, being on the Rogers 20-yard line as the whistle blew.

The visitors started the second period with a try for goal from the field. It fell short, and Knox received it. Ebbs punted to the centre of the field, to McGeough. Lee was hurt on the next play. He went through the line and tackled Heyward for a loss of 5 yards. Heyward landed heavily on Lee's shoulder, but Lee pluckily stayed in the game for four more downs, when he was relieved by Freeman.

The visitors punted, and then Rogers made four first downs in succession. Knox went around the end for 11, M. Jemail made 16 on a forward pass, Freeman 10 through the line, and Frank 15 around the end. A fumble gave the ball to the visitors and Stanley punted to M. Jemail. Ebbs returned the punt, and the visitors lost the ball on a forward pass. Time was called.

Ebbs kicked off and the first play, a forward pass, fell into Frank's hands. He broke free, and ran within one yard of the line before he was downed, but the ball was taken back because of interference. The visitors punted and Knox made a brilliant run on the next play, going 25 yards, with no interference, through a crowded field. Gamache made 20 on a forward pass, and M. Jemail tried a drop kick for goal, but failed. The period ended, with Rogers' ball on the visitors' 17-yard line.

Rogers started for another score, with 17 yards to go. Knox gained 3, and then M. Jemail successfully kicked a goal from the field, bringing the score to 8-0.

Ebbs kicked, and on Design's first play a forward pass went wrong, and Rogers secured the ball. A forward pass to M. Jemail netted 9½, and Hoar made 5, which took the ball to the 11-yard line. Here the visitors held and
